CRIMINAL LITIGATION

INTRODUCTION

1. This handbook takes you through the application process to obtain criminal litigation and advocacy practice rights with CILEx Regulation and become authorised as a CILEx Litigator and Chartered Legal Executive Advocate in criminal proceedings.
2. We recommend that you read this handbook in conjunction with the Litigation and Advocacy Certification Rules which are at Appendix 1.
3. You should read all of the handbook and supporting documentation before starting to make your application.
4. In order to become authorised CILEx Regulation as a CILEx Litigator and Chartered Legal Executive Advocate in criminal proceedings you are required to demonstrate your knowledge and understanding, experience and skills in criminal litigation and advocacy and, where you wish to work in a CILEx Regulation regulated entity, in practice management and accounts management at Level 1. This handbook explains how you will demonstrate each of these elements.
5. Once you have completed the process and you have been approved as a CILEx Litigator and Chartered Legal Executive Advocate in criminal proceedings, you will be authorised by CILEx Regulation to undertake litigation and advocacy in criminal matters. You will need to work in a legal practice that is regulated by an approved regulator or you may also work for an unregulated employer as their in-house adviser, provided that the employer does not provide legal services to the public or a section of the public as part of their business.
6. This handbook is divided into different sections:
  - Introduction: this section sets out who is eligible to make an application for litigation and advocacy rights.
  - The application form: this section takes you through the application process including how to complete each part of the application form.
  - The Competence Framework: this section provides an overview of the competence framework. It explains how the knowledge, understanding, experience and skills contained in the framework should be demonstrated through your portfolios and logbook to demonstrate your competence in litigation and advocacy.
  - How your application is assessed: this section explains how your application is assessed, including the role of external assessors in the process.
  - Next steps: this section explains what happens once CILEx Regulation has received the assessment of your portfolios and logbook.

- Appendices and Annexes: these sections provide the competence framework, scheme rules and the Committee Rules.
7. In addition to demonstrating your competence in criminal litigation and advocacy, if you wish to work in a CILEx Regulation regulated entity, you must show your knowledge of Practice Management and Accounts: we call this Level 1. If you intend to set up your own entity to deliver litigation and advocacy services which is regulated by CILEx Regulation, you will also need to undertake the Practice Management and Accounts competencies at Levels 2a, 2b and/or 2c, as appropriate, (see Compliance Manager handbook), and apply to CILEx Regulation to have your entity regulated by CILEx Regulation.
  8. If, once you have read this handbook and the supporting documents, you have any questions on the application process, please contact us.

What are Litigation and Advocacy practice rights?

9. Under the Legal Services Act 2007 (s12) litigation and advocacy activities can be carried out by an authorised person only. CILEx Regulation is a regulator that can award litigation and advocacy practice rights to enable you to become an authorised person. Litigation and advocacy activities, under the Legal Services Act, means the right to conduct litigation independently and advocacy relates to the right to exercise of rights of audience in the Magistrates, Youth and, in certain instances, Crown Court.
10. CILEx Regulation has split the litigation and advocacy rights into different practice areas. They are civil, criminal and family. Therefore your authorisation will relate to one of these practice areas.
11. This handbook is for applicants applying for criminal litigation and advocacy rights. If you wish to apply also for family and civil rights you will need to refer to those handbooks.

Who can apply for Litigation and Advocacy rights?

12. Applications to become a CILEx Litigator and Chartered Legal Executive Advocate can be made by a range of applicants, including CILEx members, non-CILEx members, authorised persons from other branches of the legal profession and others who can demonstrate that they have met the necessary knowledge, understanding, experience and skills outlined in this handbook and the scheme rules. However, you may not be authorised as a CILEx Litigator and Chartered Legal Executive Advocate by CILEx Regulation until you have been admitted to CILEx as a Chartered Legal Executive. For further information on how to become a Chartered Legal Executive, you should contact the CILEx Membership department.

What can a Litigator and Advocate do?

13. As a CILEx Litigator and Chartered Legal Executive Advocate authorised by CILEx Regulation to undertake litigation and advocacy in criminal proceedings you will be able to undertake the activities set out on your litigation and advocacy certificate, this will be
  - Criminal Litigation and Advocacy
14. Litigation and advocacy services can only be delivered through a regulated entity. You can become a CILEx Litigator and Chartered Legal Executive Advocate while you are working. If you want to practise independently in an entity you should apply to CILEx Regulation for regulation of your entity.

If your application is approved

15. The application process outlined in this document, once successfully completed, will provide you with litigation rights and a certificate of eligibility to enable you to complete the Advocacy Skills course. You will not be authorised as an advocate until you have passed the Advocacy Skills course.
16. If your application is approved, you will become a CILEx Litigator and Chartered Legal Executive Advocate in criminal proceedings, who is an authorised person under the Legal Services Act 2007. This means you can carry out the litigation and advocacy activities set out in your certificate through a legal practice that is regulated or you may also work for an unregulated employer as their in-house adviser, provided that the employer does not provide legal services to the public or a section of the public as part of their business.
17. If you intend to practise independently i.e. to set up your own practice you must also seek regulation of your entity. CILEx Regulation and other regulators are able to regulate legal practices. There is a separate application process for entity regulation.

Making your initial application

18. To make your application to become a CILEx Litigator and Chartered Legal Executive Advocate in criminal proceedings you should submit the following:
  - Application form
  - Evidence of your qualifications
  - Evidence of your experience
  - Evidence of your skills
  - Fee
19. We will work with you during the application and decision process to ensure that we have all the information necessary to enable us to make an informed decision as to whether you have the required knowledge and understanding, experience and skills to become a CILEx Litigator and Chartered Legal Executive Advocate in criminal proceedings.

THE APPLICATION FORM

20. The application form can be found at www.cilexregulation.org.uk
21. You should fully complete all parts of the Application form which relate to your specialist area of practice unless you are already a Chartered Legal Executive Advocate in which case you need not complete part seven, which is only required for applicants who do not already have advocacy rights.
22. The application form includes sections for you to demonstrate your knowledge, understanding, skills and experience in Criminal Litigation and Advocacy. It also covers your knowledge, understanding, skills and experience in Practice Management and Accounts at Level 1. Level 1 in Practice Management and Accounts must be demonstrated by all applicants seeking to work in an entity regulated by CILEx Regulation. If you also are intending to run your own entity regulated by CILEx Regulation, you will also need a Compliance Manager. This could be you or it could be one or two other people. The Compliance Manager will need to demonstrate Practice Management and Accounts competence at Level 1 and Level 2. There is a separate handbook and application form for seeking additional authorisation as a Compliance Manager.

Completing the Application Form

23. On the first page of the application form, you should indicate the practice right you seek.
24. You should complete the remaining sections of the application form as follows:

Part One: General Information

25. This section asks for your personal information. You should answer all questions in this section.
26. You do not need to be a member of CILEx to apply for Litigation and Advocacy rights. However to be authorised as a CILEx Litigator and Advocate, you must be a Chartered Legal Executive. If you are successful in obtaining authorisation by us, we will register you as a CILEx Litigator and Chartered Legal Executive Advocate in criminal proceedings once you have been admitted as a Chartered Legal Executive. You could therefore apply to become a Chartered Legal Executive at the same time as you apply for litigation and advocacy rights, although we recommend that you apply to become a Chartered Legal Executive first.

Part Two: Knowledge and Understanding

27. To obtain Criminal Litigation and Advocacy rights, you must demonstrate that you have gained knowledge in Criminal Law and Criminal Litigation to Level 6 standard. We have developed competence frameworks which set out the competencies we require in litigation and in advocacy. They are at Annex 3.

28. There are 3 routes through which you can demonstrate competence. This part of the application form requires you to choose one or a combination of options from the three routes. You may find you need to only choose one of these options, or alternatively you may demonstrate your knowledge and understanding through choosing elements from more than one of these options.
29. The options set out how you may demonstrate your knowledge and are explained below.

Option 1: CILEx examinations

30. If you have passed the CILEx Level 6 examinations in criminal law and criminal litigation you should select this option. You must record the title of the examination and the date on which you passed the examination.
31. If you have not completed either or both of these examinations you may demonstrate your knowledge and understanding, equivalent to the Level 6 examinations in the subject(s) you do not have, through option 2 or option 3 or a combination of the two. Collectively you must demonstrate knowledge of relevant law and practice subjects.

Option 2: Equivalent examinations

32. You may rely on examinations you have passed in criminal law and criminal litigation with an organisation other than CILEx. The examinations must be to Level 6 standard, which is honours degree level, and map to the competence framework at Annex 3 which is equivalent to the CILEx examinations. For example, you may have completed these subjects and been assessed in them on a law degree, LPC or BPTC.
33. If you have already been provided with exemptions from the Level 6 CILEx examinations, you will not need to repeat this process for the purpose of making an application for criminal litigation and advocacy rights.
34. We will map the examinations that you rely upon against the competencies at Annex 3 for equivalency. To enable us to undertake this mapping exercise, we will need you to provide the following information:
  - The name of the Awarding body of each examination on which you seek to rely;
  - The title of each examination passed;
  - The date on which you passed each examination;
  - Evidence of your results (e.g. a certificate or transcript of marks); and
  - The syllabus for each examination.

35. Once we have received all the necessary information, we will map your examinations against the requirements set out in the Competence Framework located in the Litigation and Advocacy Certification Rules at Annex 3.
36. Each examination that you rely upon must have covered at least 50% of the competencies in the competence frameworks.
37. Where we do not find that the alternative examinations map to at least 50% of the competence frameworks we may ask you to supply further information about the examinations upon which you rely. Alternatively you may be asked to complete option 3 (the details of which are set out below) or take the relevant examinations. CILEx Regulation's assessment following the mapping exercise is final.

Option 3: Knowledge and understanding obtained through practice

38. Where you have not passed CILEx Level 6 or equivalent examinations in criminal law and criminal litigation you must use option 3 to demonstrate your knowledge in these subjects. Under this option you are able to demonstrate that through your practical experience you have gained knowledge of criminal law and criminal litigation. You must be able to demonstrate that the knowledge you have gained covers a sufficient breadth and depth to map to at least 50% of the competence frameworks at Annex 3.
39. You will be required to produce five portfolios of cases that you have dealt with, which set out how you have met the knowledge and understanding requirements as set out in the Litigation and Advocacy Competence Frameworks. A portfolio template can be found at Annex 1 of the application form. This template sets out the questions you need to answer in respect of each of the 5 cases. You will therefore need to produce 5 copies of the portfolio form. You should use a separate portfolio form for each of the 5 cases used.
40. You should select cases for your portfolios that demonstrate the range and breadth of your knowledge and understanding of the learning outcomes, as set out in the Competence Framework located in the Litigation and Advocacy Certification Rules at Annex 3.
41. We provide further guidance on how to complete the portfolios later in this handbook.

Part Three: Experience

42. In this part of the application form you must set out your experience in criminal litigation and advocacy, by outlining work you have undertaken in the last 5 years and producing portfolios of 3 cases you have dealt with.
43. You must begin by setting out your employment and work experience. This should cover the previous 5 years. If you have had a break in your employment in the last 5 years please provide an explanation for such breaks (e.g. maternity leave etc.).

44. You must have at least 2 years of experience in criminal litigation and advocacy immediately preceding your application. Where you have had a break in your employment, you may rely on litigation and advocacy experience you gained earlier in the preceding 5 years. In exceptional circumstances, CILEx Regulation may accept experience gained from a period longer than 5 years ago.
45. For each of the employment/work roles you have identified on your application form, you should provide the following information:
- A description of the types of cases that you have handled;
  - A description of your typical caseload, including details about the complexity of the caseload and a summary of any difficult cases you have handled;
  - The number of chargeable hours you spend on criminal litigation and advocacy;
  - The proportion of time you spend on criminal litigation, as opposed to other areas of practice;
  - A description of the range and nature of criminal litigation and advocacy matters you have handled; and
  - Any distinctive features of your work.
46. In addition to outlining your experience, you should provide 3 portfolios of cases you have handled. The cases you select for your portfolios must cover a range of matters you have handled and demonstrate the breadth of your experience in criminal litigation and advocacy. We have produced a portfolio template for you to use which can be found at Annex 2 of the application form. You will need to make 3 copies of the form in order to produce 3 portfolios. Where you have provided the 5 portfolios required to demonstrate your knowledge and understanding of the relevant area of law and practice and these also demonstrate your experience in criminal litigation, you may rely on these portfolios to evidence this aspect of the application process.

Part Four: Skills

47. In this part of the application you must demonstrate that you have the skills required to undertake criminal litigation and advocacy, deliver client care and undertake legal research. We have produced skills outcomes for client care, legal research and criminal litigation and advocacy.
48. The Competence Frameworks, located at Annex 3 of the handbook, set out the skills you must demonstrate. We have called them learning outcomes for litigation and advocacy.
49. You can meet the legal research and client care skills through a number of routes:
- by undertaking the CILEx Level 6 examinations in these subjects;

- through having completed an LL.B (legal research only); and/or
  - LPC/BPTC; or
  - through your work experience.
50. You can demonstrate that you meet criminal litigation and advocacy skills and also in client care and legal research outcomes either by:
- taking a course or examination, which meets the outcomes set out in the Competence Framework;
  - by providing a logbook and portfolio of evidence which demonstrates how you have met each of the outcomes; or
  - a combination of the two options.
51. Where you opt to use the logbook and portfolio option we have produced a logbook template which asks a series of questions about your skills. The template logbook sheet can be found at Annex 3 of the application form. You must be able to evidence that your skills cover each learning outcome identified in column 2 of the skills section of the competence frameworks. You do this by completing a logbook sheet and providing supporting evidence for each outcome in column 2 of the competence frameworks. More guidance on how the competence frameworks work is provided in the competence framework part of this handbook. Where you cannot demonstrate that you have met one or more of the learning outcomes, you must complete a course which covers these skills.

Part Five: Practice Management and Accounts

52. Complete this part of the application form if you intend to deliver criminal litigation and advocacy services through an entity that will be regulated by CILEx Regulation. The form asks you to demonstrate your knowledge, understanding, experience and skills in Practice Management and Accounts to Level 1. You will also need at least one Compliance Manager(s) responsible for practice and/or accounts management. You or the person(s) applying to become the Compliance Manager(s) will also need to complete the Compliance Manager application form, which is available separately.
53. There are two routes through which you can demonstrate competence to Level 1 in practice management and accounts. This part of the application form requires you to choose one or a combination of options from the two routes. You may find you need to only choose one of these options, or alternatively you may demonstrate your knowledge and understanding through choosing elements from both of these options.

54. The options set out how you may demonstrate your knowledge and are explained below.

Option 1: Course(s)

55. If you have completed or passed a course which demonstrates your competence in some or all of the outcomes as set out in the competence framework, you may rely on this as evidence of meeting the required standard to achieve authorisation in practice management and accounts. You must record the course provider/awarding body, the title of the course and the date on which you completed or passed the course.
56. In addition, you should also supply the syllabus/course outline for the course on which you seek to rely, together with any transcript of marks and proof of having completed and, where appropriate, passed the course.
57. We will map the courses that you rely upon against the competencies at Annex 4 for equivalency. To enable us to undertake this mapping exercise, we will need you to provide the following information:
- The name of the Awarding body/course provider of each course on which you seek to rely;
  - The title of each course completed/passed;
  - The date on which you completed/passed each course;
  - Evidence of your completion/results (e.g. confirmation of attendance, a certificate or transcript of marks); and
  - The syllabus/course outline for each course.
58. Once we have received all the necessary information, we will map your course(s) against the requirements set out in the Practice Management and Accounts Competence Framework at Annex 4.
59. Where we do not find that the course(s) map to each of the outcomes in the competence frameworks we may ask you to supply further information about the course(s) upon which you rely. Alternatively you may be asked to complete option 2 (the details of which are set out below).
60. CILEx Regulation's assessment following the mapping exercise is final.
61. If you have not completed a course which demonstrates meeting some or all of the outcomes as set out in the competence framework you must demonstrate these through option 2. Collectively you must demonstrate knowledge, understanding, experience and skills in practice management and accounts management to the level equivalent with the authorisation you seek.

Option 2: Knowledge, understanding, experience and skills obtained through practice

62. Where you have not passed course(s) which meet the relevant outcomes required for authorisation in practice management and accounts management, you must use option 2 to demonstrate your knowledge, understanding, experience and skills in these outcomes. Under this option you are able to demonstrate that through your practical experience you have gained knowledge of the relevant outcomes. You must be able to demonstrate that the knowledge you have gained covers a sufficient breadth and depth to map to each of the outcomes set out in the competence frameworks at Annex 4.
63. Where you opt to use the logbook and portfolio option we have produced a logbook template which asks a series of questions about your skills. The template logbook sheet can be found at Annex 3 of the application form. You must be able to evidence that your skills cover each learning outcome at the appropriate level for your desired authorisation in practice management and accounts management. These are identified in column 2 of the competence frameworks.
64. You do this by completing a logbook sheet and providing supporting evidence for each outcome in column 2 of the competence frameworks. More guidance on how the competence frameworks work is provided later in this handbook. Where you cannot demonstrate that you have met one or more of the learning outcomes, you must complete a course which covers these skills.

Part Six: Membership of Professional Bodies and Conduct

65. This part of the application form asks you to outline any memberships you have of other professional bodies and your prior conduct.

Membership of Professional Bodies

66. You should complete the table, setting out details of all memberships you hold of professional bodies. You should include past and present memberships you hold or have held and set out the dates of each period of membership where you have held membership more than once with the same organisation.
67. You should include a statement of good standing for each of these memberships. A statement of good standing confirms that you have maintained any CPD requirements required as a member of each organisation and, that for current memberships, your subscriptions or regulatory fees are up to date.

Statement of prior conduct

68. This section asks you about your past conduct. You must answer all questions on the statement of prior conduct.

69. Where you have answered 'yes' to any of the questions, you must provide full details of the circumstances giving rise to the declaration, including dates of any declared conduct.
70. We will refer any prior conduct matters you declare to the CILEx Regulation Investigation Team, which will ask you for further information. A decision will be made whether the prior conduct matter affects your application for Litigation and Advocacy rights.

Declaration of conduct

71. You should then sign this part of the document. This declaration relates specifically to the information declared in this section in respect of prior conduct. You will also be asked to sign the application form at the end, to confirm that the information you have provided within your whole application is accurate and complete.

Part Seven: Advocacy Application

72. If you are not currently a Chartered Legal Executive Advocate in criminal proceedings you will need to seek advocacy rights along with your litigation application. To do that you must complete this section of the application form and provide 3 portfolios which demonstrate your criminal advocacy experience. This will provide you with a certificate of eligibility which you must have before you can undertake the criminal advocacy skills course.
73. You should indicate which advocacy right you are applying for. For criminal litigation rights, you must choose open court rights and this will provide you with rights of audience in the Magistrates' and Youth Courts and some matters in the Crown Court (appeals and bail hearings).
74. Once you have selected the advocacy rights that you want to apply for, you should complete Annex 4 of the application, in which you set out your criminal advocacy experience.
75. This part of the application requires that you demonstrate the experience you have developed in criminal advocacy.
76. In relation to the 2 years preceding the application you must give the following information about advocacy or similar work you have undertaken:
  - Proportion of time spent on criminal proceedings work.
  - Proportion or number of cases which have included preparation for trial.
  - Range and nature of advocacy experience including observed advocacy.
  - Details of supervisory arrangements under which you work and/or your supervisory responsibilities.

77. You must also submit a portfolio of cases demonstrating your advocacy experience in compliance with the competence criteria set out in the competence framework. The portfolio template can be found at Annex 5 of the application form. Where you have not undertaken advocacy you may complete portfolios for advice you have given at the police station. This form is at Annex 6 of the application form.
78. The portfolio requires you demonstrate the learning outcomes through answering the questions set out below. We have outlined how you can answer the questions.

If you are completing advocacy portfolios (Annex 5) the following guidance applies.

- Provide a concise description of the case, its progression and outcome

Describe the facts of the case but keep the case anonymous.

- Summarise the nature of the advocacy that you undertook, including any negotiation and arbitration

Outline the advocacy that you undertook. You should set out what representations you made in the case, any responses you made to issues raised by the other side and any other submissions you made.

- State the court in which the advocacy took place and whether it was a contested matter.

State the type of court, eg county court, that the hearing took place in. State whether it was contested or uncontested. If it was contested indicate what elements were contested.

- Outline the preparation work you undertook before the hearing.

Summarise what you did to prepare for the hearings such as gathering information, preparing a case outline, preparing submissions.

- Summarise the legal, procedural, evidential and ethical issues that arose during the hearing or advocacy and how you dealt with them.

Detail the legal issues that applied and the steps undertaken to progress the case, for example were any forms lodged with the court and what action did you take before that? Outline the procedures and processes involved in the case. The question is not limited to situations where a problem arose in relation to procedures and/or processes used in the case.

Set out what the evidence was and how you dealt with it (on both sides). It may be relevant to comment on the strength of the evidence. The question is not limited to situations where a problem arose in relation to evidence used in the case.

It is very important you demonstrate that you are aware of your obligations to your client and the court and act with honesty and integrity. For example, were there any unrepresented third parties? Was there any conflict of interest? Did your client's instructions change? Did your client have capacity?

- Outline the effectiveness of your advocacy

State how well you managed to advance your client's case. You do need to have been the successful litigant. The question is about reflecting on your advocacy in advancing your client's case

- Summarise any training or development needs you identified while you dealt with this case

Any training needs that are identified should be addressed by reference to how you sought to obtain the desired training.

79. If you are completing police station portfolios (Annex 6) the following guidance applies.

- Provide a concise description of the case, its progression and outcome

Describe the facts of the case but keep the case anonymous.

- Summarise the manner in which instructions were received by you.

Outline how you were instructed. For example, you or your firm may have been on the duty rota or the client may have contacted you.

- Indicate the context in which the advice was provided.

For example, you may have provided advice at the police station, over the telephone or made representations to the duty officer.

- Provide a summary of any legal issues that arose during the course of the advice, assistance and representation you provided to the client and how you dealt with them.

Summarise the legal issues. For example, this may include advising the client on the caution, the offence for which they were being questioned.

- Provide a summary of any procedural issues that arose during the course of the advice, assistance and representation you provided to the client and you dealt with them.

Summarise what procedural elements were. For example, outline the process that was followed in the before, during and after the police interview and you ensured your client was aware of the procedure.

- Provide a summary of any conduct or ethical issues that arose during the course of advising, assisting and representing the client and how you dealt with them.

It is very important you demonstrate that you are aware of your obligations to your client and your responsibilities under the Code of Conduct. For example, were you being asked to represent more than one client? Was there any conflict of interest? Did your client's instructions change?

- Summarise the action you took after you had provided advice, assistance and representation to the client

Set out what you did after the advice. For example, you may have made representations on bail, you will have written up a file note.

- Indicate how effective your advice, assistance and representation of the client was in the case

State how well you managed to advance your client's case. You do need to have been successful in charges being dismissed. The question is about reflecting on your ability in advancing your client's case

- Summarise any training or development needs you identified arising out of your advice, assistance or representation

Any training needs that are identified should be addressed by reference to how you sought to obtain the desired training.

Examples of draft portfolios can be found in Appendix 3 of this handbook.

Part Eight: References, Endorsement and Declaration

80. This part of the application asks you to provide details of two legal professionals who have knowledge of your work and are willing to provide a reference for you. The legal professionals should be authorised persons or members of the judiciary. An authorised person is defined in section 18 of the Legal Services Act 2007 as a solicitor, barrister, CILEx Fellow, CILEx Practitioner, Licensed Conveyancer, Patent Agent, Trade Mark Attorney, Costs Lawyer or Notarial Agent.
81. You should provide full contact details of your referees, including their name, address, telephone number and professional position. We will write to your referees and ask for a reference. We treat references as confidential and therefore will not ordinarily share them with you.
82. The final section of the application form asks you to choose the practice right for which you are applying. In this case you should delete all parts, with the exception of the relevant Criminal Litigation and Advocacy rights applied for in the second part of the declaration.
83. You should then sign and date the application form, stating that you have provided full and complete information to the best of your knowledge and that you agree to be bound by the rules governing authorisation as a CILEx Litigator and Chartered Legal Executive Advocate in criminal proceedings by CILEx Regulation.

THE COMPETENCE FRAMEWORK

84. This handbook makes reference to the Competence Frameworks, which are located within the Litigation and Rights of Audience Rules at Annex 3 of this document.
85. You may not be familiar with competence frameworks, in which case you should read this section before you start to complete the portfolios.
86. The framework has 3 columns.
  - The first column identifies the nature of the learning outcomes and supporting experience. This is where we identify which sections relate to knowledge and understanding, experience or skills elements.
  - The second column identifies each learning outcome to be addressed. Learning outcomes set out what you are able to do, either because you have completed a course/examination or because you have developed the knowledge, understanding, experience or skill through your work. When completing your portfolio or logbooks you should refer to the outcomes in this column for the knowledge, skills or experience part.
  - The final column sets out the experience that you must have gained in order to meet the learning outcome set out in column 2. Where relevant they explain the steps you should take to evidence the corresponding outcome.
87. You should focus on column 2, which sets out the relevant learning outcome. Column 3 sets out the necessary knowledge and skills that support meeting the learning outcome.

Completion of the Knowledge and Understanding Portfolios – Annex 1 of Application Form

88. You must demonstrate your knowledge and understanding of the elements set out in the competence framework included in the Litigation and Rights of Audience Certification Rules located at Annex 3 of this document.
89. If you have not passed the CILEx Level 6 examinations or equivalent examinations in criminal law and criminal litigation you must complete portfolios to demonstrate your knowledge and understanding of each of the knowledge and understanding learning outcomes. This section guides you on completing the portfolios.
90. You must complete portfolios of five cases to demonstrate your knowledge and understanding of the relevant area of law and practice in accordance with the learning outcomes from the relevant competence framework (column 2 of the knowledge and understanding section of the framework).
91. Whilst you need not demonstrate all of the outcomes in each portfolio, you should demonstrate each knowledge and understanding learning outcome at least once across the five portfolios.

92. Each learning outcome has an explanation of what information is needed to demonstrate that you have met that learning outcome. These are located in column 3 of the framework. You must explain how your case example demonstrates these as this in turn demonstrates that you have met the learning outcome. For example:

Knowledge & Understanding	Learning Outcome	Supporting Experience
Criminal law and practice	This is made up of learning outcomes: Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of criminal law as it operates in practice.	The information in this column sets out what you need to demonstrate in your case study to have met this learning outcome: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- The criminal law relating to analysis of actus reus, mens rea etc</li> </ul>

93. To meet this outcome, you could outline a case where you took instructions from a person seeking representation following arrest by police. In your explanation, you should demonstrate that you covered the steps outlined in the supporting experience column to show that you have satisfied this outcome of knowledge and understanding of Criminal law and practice. In this case you would demonstrate how you outlined to your client the elements of the offence that the prosecution must demonstrate.
94. Although each portfolio does not need to cover all of the learning outcomes, ideally you should demonstrate that you meet each learning outcome at least once across the 5 portfolios. The minimum requirement is to demonstrate overall that you meet at least 50% of the learning outcomes. You should indicate in your portfolios the learning outcomes you believe they demonstrate.
95. The portfolio requires you demonstrate the learning outcomes through answering the questions set out below. We have outlined how you can answer the questions.
- Provide an outline of the facts of the case/matter

You should provide an outline of the facts of the case/matter that you handled that you are using. You could for example set out the facts of a case where a client asks you to represent them in a charge of theft.

- Provide an explanation of the law arising in the case/matter and how the law applies to the facts outlined above

You should provide an outline of the law which you identify as relevant to the facts, in the matter that you are using, to illustrate the learning outcomes from the knowledge and understanding section of the competence framework. You may find that you are able to demonstrate some of the law competencies from the competence framework in this section of the portfolio. For example you could set out the law in the Theft Act.

- Provide an outline of any procedural and process matters that arose in the case/matter and how they were dealt with

You should outline the steps undertaken to progress the case. This may include the process for dealing with an either way offence.

- Provide an outline of the evidential issues that arose in the case and how they were dealt with

You should provide an outline of the evidence you had and how you dealt with this to illustrate the learning outcomes from the knowledge and understanding section of the competence framework. For example evidential issues relating to a speeding matter where your client is alleging they were not driving the vehicle.

You should note that 'Issues' does not mean problems. By this we mean that you should outline all the evidential matters involved in the case. The question is not limited to situations where a problem arose in relation to the evidence used in the case.

- Provide an outline of any ethical or conduct issues that arose in the case and how they were dealt with

You should provide an outline of any relevant ethical or conduct issues that arose in the matter that you are using to illustrate the learning outcomes from the knowledge and understanding section of the competence framework. It is important that you are aware of your obligations to your client and act with honesty and integrity. For example, where your client changes their instructions part way through a matter.

- Provide an outline of any funding issues that arose in the case and how they were dealt with

You should provide an explanation of how the case was funded.

You should note that 'Issues' does not mean problems. By this we mean that you should outline all the funding matters involved in the case. The question is not limited to situations where a problem arose in relation to the funding used in the case.

- Provide an outline of the advice provided to the applicant and the outcome of the matter

You should provide an outline of the advice you provided to your client which was relevant to progressing the matter that you are using to illustrate the learning outcomes from the knowledge and understanding section of the competence framework. For example, the advice on the charge against them.

- Provide an outline of the decisions you had to make in the case and whether you had to take any strategic decisions in the case

You should provide an outline of any decisions you had to make, including strategic decisions relevant in the matter that you are using to illustrate the learning outcomes from the knowledge and understanding section of the competence framework.

- Provide a description of any training or development needs you have identified as a result of having dealt with the case

Having reflected on the case/matter you used in your portfolio, you should consider whether any training or development arose either during the case or on reflection following completion of the matter which would assist you in dealing with similar cases in future. You should also outline how you have addressed the training need identified.

96. At the end of each portfolio you should identify which of the knowledge and understanding outcomes you believe you have met in the portfolio.

Completion of the Experience Portfolios – Annex 2 of Application Form

97. You are required to demonstrate your experience of the elements set out in the 'Entry Experience All Applicants' section of the competence framework included in the Litigation and Rights of Audience Certification Rules. The competence frameworks are at Annex 3 of this document.
98. All applicants must complete this part of the form unless you have already completed five portfolios to demonstrate your knowledge.
99. You should complete portfolios of three cases to demonstrate your experience of criminal litigation and three portfolios to demonstrate your experience of advocacy, in accordance with the relevant elements identified in the competence framework.
100. Where you have not produced 5 portfolios to demonstrate knowledge and experience of Criminal law and Criminal Litigation, you should produce 3 portfolios which demonstrate your breadth of experience in these areas. You should follow the guidance set out at above on answering the questions.
101. Each portfolio must cover a range of the learning outcomes from the knowledge and understanding part of the competence framework so as to demonstrate your experience of the relevant area of litigation and advocacy gained in the last 2 years.

102. Where the knowledge and understanding portfolios do not demonstrate your experience to meet this requirement, you should submit additional portfolios to demonstrate your experience of criminal litigation and advocacy gained in accordance with the experience requirements. The portfolios will be marked by an external assessor.
103. At the end of each portfolio you should identify how the portfolio demonstrates your experience in the relevant area of litigation and advocacy.

Completion of the Skills Logbook and Portfolio of Evidence – Annex 3 of Application Form

104. The following guidance explains how to complete and present your logbook and portfolio for the skills part of your application. You must demonstrate your skills in criminal litigation and advocacy, client care and legal research by completing a logbook sheet for each skills element. Alternatively, you may complete a skills course or qualification to meet the learning outcomes.
105. This section gives you guidance where you opt to complete a logbook and portfolio of evidence.
106. The skills that you are required to demonstrate can be found in 2 parts of the competence framework labelled: 'Stage 1: Entry Skills' and 'Stage 2 Qualification Criteria: Skills'. In the first column of the competence framework, there are 6 skills elements identified.
107. Entry Skills element 1 is client care. This can be demonstrated in a number of ways:
  - By passing the CILEx Level 6 Client Care examination;
  - completion and passing the LPC or BPTC;
  - another examination which meets the outcomes set out in column 2 of the competence framework; or
  - through completion of a logbook and portfolio of evidence which demonstrates how you meet these outcomes from your work experience.
108. Entry Skills element 2 is legal research. This can be demonstrated in a number of ways:
  - By passing the CILEx Level 6 Legal Research examination;
  - through completion of a qualifying law degree;
  - another examination which meets the outcomes set out in column 2 of the competence framework; or
  - through completion of a logbook and portfolio of evidence which demonstrates how you meet these outcomes from your work experience.

109. Qualification Skills elements 1-5 are specific to criminal litigation and advocacy. They cover the following elements:
- Interviewing, advising and communicating
  - Costs and funding
  - Conduct and ethics
  - Managing litigation work
  - Legal writing and drafting
110. These can be demonstrated either through:
- successfully completing a course which meets the outcomes set out in column 2 of the competence framework; or
  - through completion of a logbook and portfolio of evidence which demonstrates how you meet these outcomes from your work experience.
111. You should complete a separate logbook sheet (located at Annex 3 of the application form) for each of the skills learning outcomes that are set out in column 2 of the Competence Framework located in the Litigation and Rights of Audience Certification Rules at Annex 3. In producing your logbook for each of these outcomes in column 2 you should aim to address the experience elements in column 3 of the framework.
112. For each piece of evidence you provide to support meeting the skills outlined in column 2 you should provide a logbook sheet which explains what the evidence is that you have provided and how it meets the learning outcome and supporting experience (located in columns 2 and 3). For example, to meet the skill element 5 (drafting), learning outcome 1 (an ability to understand and apply the principles of good writing and drafting), you could provide evidence of having drafted a witness statement.
113. You should then outline how the evidence shows you have put the outcome into practice in your workplace. For example, to explain how the witness statement will be used to support your clients defence to a charge against them.
114. Where your activity in meeting the outcome has highlighted opportunities for you to develop your legal knowledge or professional skills, you should identify this on the logbook sheet. You may also want to include any steps you have taken to address this opportunity for development.
115. The evidence used must come from matters that you have dealt with and must support the learning outcomes and supporting evidence identified on the logbook sheet.
116. The evidence should be provided in a page numbered portfolio, with the relevant logbook sheet attached to the evidence.

117. A template logbook sheet can be found at Annex 3 of the application form.
118. There are up to 2 entry skills elements and 6 qualification skills to be satisfied through preparation of a logbook and portfolio of evidence (depending on how you have chosen to demonstrate you meet these outcomes) and each has a series of learning outcomes attached to them. Ideally you should demonstrate competence against each of the learning outcomes in the competence framework. However, the minimum requirement is to achieve a mark of at least 50% from the external assessor.
119. You should provide the date upon which each outcome was completed on the logbook sheet; this will be the most recent date of the evidence supplied. The evidence on which you rely should not normally be more than 2 years old by the date on which you submit your portfolio. Where you have had a break in your employment, you may rely on litigation and advocacy experience you gained earlier in the preceding 5 years. In exceptional circumstances, CILEx Regulation may accept experience gained from a period longer than 5 years ago.
120. You should sign and date each logbook sheet with the date you complete the logbook entry.
121. You should not present your logbook and portfolio in a ring-binder or any other binding or wallet. You should not staple sheets together or use comb binding. You may connect pages using a treasury tag or an elastic band only.

PRACTICE MANAGEMENT AND ACCOUNTS

122. If you seek to deliver criminal litigation and advocacy services through an entity that is regulated by CILEx Regulation you must obtain authorisation to Level 1 in Practice Management and Accounts.
123. In addition all entities must have Compliance Manager(s) responsible for practice management and accounts. The person(s) who will be the Compliance Manager(s) (whether in practice management, accounts or both) must complete the Compliance Manager application form. The Compliance Manager does not have to become a CILEx Litigator and Chartered Legal Executive Advocate in criminal proceedings if they are not undertaking litigation work. Alternatively you may be the CILEx Litigator and Chartered Legal Executive Advocate in criminal proceedings and the Compliance Manager for your practice.
124. Once you have demonstrated competence in criminal litigation and advocacy, passed the advocacy course and demonstrated competence in accounts and practice management to level 1 you will be authorised by CILEx Regulation to deliver litigation and advocacy services.
125. If you intend to practise independently i.e. to set up your own practice you must also seek regulation of your entity. CILEx Regulation and other regulators are able to regulate entities. There is a separate application process for entity regulation.

The Practice Management and Accounts Competence Framework

126. This handbook makes reference to the Practice Management Competence Framework and Accounts Management Competence Framework, which are located at Annex 4 of this document.
127. You may not be familiar with competence frameworks, in which case you should read this section before you start to complete the portfolios.
128. The framework has 3 columns.
  - The first column identifies the nature of the learning outcomes and supporting experience. This is where we identify the required knowledge, understanding, experience and skills elements.
  - The second column identifies each learning outcome to be addressed. Learning outcomes set out what you are able to do, either because you have completed a course/examination or because you have developed the knowledge, understanding, experience or skills through your work. When completing your logbook you should refer to the outcomes in this column for the knowledge, understanding, skills and experience.
  - The final column sets out the experience that you must have gained in order to meet the learning outcome set out in column 2. Where relevant they explain the steps you should take to evidence the corresponding outcome.
129. You should focus on column 2, which sets out the relevant learning outcome. Column 3 sets out the necessary knowledge and skills that support meeting the learning outcome.
130. Each learning outcome has an explanation of what information is needed to demonstrate that you have met that learning outcome. These are located in column 3 of the framework. You must explain how your case example demonstrates these as this in turn demonstrates that you have met the learning outcome. For example (from Practice Management Competence Framework):

Knowledge, Understanding, Skills and Experience	Learning Outcome	Supporting Experience
Being part of a profession	This is made up of 1 learning outcome: It states: Demonstrate knowledge, understanding and application of the current legal market and legal entities which may be created to provide a legal service	The information in this column sets out what you need to demonstrate in your case study to have met this learning outcome. It has 2 levels (level 1 and level 2a). All applicants must complete level 1, those seeking authorisation as a Compliance Manager must also complete level 2a. Level 1 states: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>– Knowledge and understanding of the types of structure through which a legal entity may be formed</li> <li>– Knowledge and understanding of those able to regulate reserved legal activities</li> <li>– Understanding that the structure and regulation of legal entities and activities may change and be able to identify these changes</li> <li>– Knowledge and understanding of a business plan, taking into account recent and current changes to the legal services market</li> <li>– Knowledge, understanding and ability to comply with a complaints procedure in line with LeOguidelines.</li> </ul>

131. To meet level 1 of this outcome you should outline your knowledge and understanding of each element, set out in the supporting experience column and explain how you apply this knowledge to your practice. This will demonstrate that you have satisfied this outcome at level 1 in practice management.

Completion of the Skills Logbook and Portfolio of Evidence

132. The following guidance explains how to complete and present your logbook and portfolio for your application. You must demonstrate your knowledge, understanding, experience and skills in the relevant level of competence for practice management and accounts management by completing a logbook sheet for each skills element. Alternatively, you may complete a course or courses to meet the learning outcomes.

133. This section gives you guidance where you opt to complete a logbook and portfolio of evidence.
134. The knowledge, understanding, experience and skills that you are required to demonstrate can be found in the competence frameworks. In the first column of the competence framework, there are 4 elements identified in the practice management competence framework and 3 elements identified in the accounts management competence framework.
135. The elements identified in the practice management competence framework cover the following elements:
- Being part of a profession
  - CILEx regulations
  - Management of a legal entity
  - Business acumen
136. The elements identified in the accounts competence framework cover the following elements:
- CILEx Accounts Rules
  - General Bookkeeping
  - Finances
137. Each of the outcomes which fall within each element are levelled, at either level 1, level 2a, level 2b or level 2c. If you are not seeking authorisation as a Compliance Manager, you need only demonstrate competence at level 1.
138. The outcomes can be demonstrated either through:
- successfully completing a course which meets the outcomes set out in column 2 of the competence framework; or
  - through completion of a logbook and portfolio of evidence which demonstrates how you meet these outcomes from your work experience.
139. You should complete a separate logbook sheet (located at Annex 3 of the application form) for each of the knowledge, understanding, skills and experience learning outcomes that are set out in column 2 of the Competence Framework at Annex 4. In producing your logbook for each of these outcomes in column 2 you should aim to address the experience elements set out in column 3 of the framework.

140. For each piece of evidence you provide to support meeting the skills outlined in column 2 you should provide a logbook sheet which explains what the evidence is that you have provided and how it meets the learning outcome and supporting experience (located in columns 2 and 3). For example, in the Accounts Management Competence Framework, to meet element 2 (General Bookkeeping), learning outcome 1 (Double Entry Bookkeeping) you could provide evidence of your knowledge and understanding of client ledgers, making entries into legal cashbooks, trial balances and a bill of costs.
141. You should then outline how the evidence shows you have put the outcome into practice in your workplace. For example, to explain how the financial statement clearly sets out the position of the client and how your knowledge of time costing has been applied to benefit reporting.
142. Where your activity in meeting the outcome has highlighted opportunities for you to develop your knowledge or professional skills, you should identify this on the logbook sheet. You may also want to include any steps you have taken to address this opportunity for development.
143. The evidence used must come from matters that you have dealt with and must support the learning outcomes and supporting evidence identified on the logbook sheet.
144. The evidence should be provided in a page numbered portfolio, with the relevant logbook sheet attached to the evidence.
145. A template logbook sheet can be found at Annex 3 of the application form.
146. There are 7 elements to be satisfied to the required level (as set out above) through preparation of a logbook and portfolio of evidence (depending on how you have chosen to demonstrate you meet these outcomes) and each has a series of learning outcomes attached to them. You should demonstrate meeting each learning outcome at least once.
147. You should provide the date upon which each outcome was completed on the logbook sheet; this will be the most recent date of the evidence supplied. The evidence on which you rely should not normally be more than 2 years old by the date on which you submit your portfolio. Where you have had a break in your employment, you may rely on experience you gained earlier in the preceding 5 years. In exceptional circumstances, CILEx Regulation may accept experience gained from a period longer than 5 years ago.
148. You should sign and date each logbook sheet with the date you complete the logbook entry.
149. You should not present your logbook and portfolio in a ring-binder or any other binding or wallet. You should not staple sheets together or use comb binding. You may connect pages using a treasury tag or an elastic band only.

WHAT HAPPENS NEXT?

154. Once you have completed your application form and supporting evidence, you should submit your application to:

CILEx Regulation
Kempston Manor
Kempston
Bedford
MK42 7AB

155. You should also submit the required fee with your application. The current fee for submitting your application can be found on the CILEx Regulation website www.cilexregulation.org.uk
156. When we receive your application, we will send a letter of acknowledgement to you. This will provide you with a likely timescale for the internal review of your application.
157. Once we have reviewed your application, it is usual for us to come back to you for additional information. This is to ensure that as far as possible, your application appears to fully demonstrate that you have met all of the learning outcomes set out on the Competence Framework at Annex 1, before we submit your portfolios covering your knowledge (where appropriate) and experience to our external assessors.
158. Our external assessors are experienced academics and assessors who are subject matter experts in your area of practice. They will review the information and evidence you have submitted in your application in order to assess whether the information you have provided meets the learning outcomes and supporting experience from columns 2 and 3 of the Competency Framework. Your portfolios may be sent to different assessors based on the subject matter of the relevant portfolio.
159. External assessment may take a few weeks. The external assessors will review all of the evidence and portfolios that you have provided to demonstrate your knowledge, understanding, skills and experience and will assess your portfolios against each of the learning outcomes.
160. There are a number of outcomes from assessment:
- Where you meet the outcomes your portfolio/logbook will be considered to demonstrate that you are competent in that element; or
  - Where we cannot determine a matter on the evidence provided, we or the external assessor may seek further information before we can reach a decision, for example, we may ask for additional evidence or more detailed explanation of the matter(s) you have relied upon; or

- The assessor may assess you as not yet competent in which case they will provide reasons for their decision.

Once we have received the outcome of the assessment from the external assessor, we will decide the next action required.

161. Our action, once we have received the external assessor's assessment may be to:

- Approve the application in the office as all elements have been assessed as 'Competent' in accordance with the Competence Framework.
- Where the portfolio/logbook has been assessed as overall competent, but issues have been identified by the assessor, the office may refer your application to the Admissions and Licensing Committee for their decision.
- Request further information from you and resubmit the application and/or ask you to make further submissions in support of your application. We will then submit this with your existing application to the Admissions and Licensing Committee for a decision.

Where the application is approved in the office

162. If you have demonstrated that you meet all of the learning outcomes set out in the competence framework, covering knowledge and understanding, experience and skills and the external adviser has assessed all of your portfolios as competent, your application for litigation rights and for the certificate of eligibility in relation to the advocacy skills course can be approved by a CILEx Regulation Officer.
163. We will write to you confirming that you have been successful in your application as a Litigator and that you have received your certificate of eligibility to undertake the advocacy skills course.

Advocacy skills course

164. On the award of a Certificate of Eligibility you will be eligible to undertake the advocacy skills course.
165. The course will involve the teaching of advocacy skills relevant to the rights you seek (chambers or open court). The course will be of at least 6 days duration and must involve formal assessments of advocacy skills and a test in the law of evidence. The course provider will be responsible for testing and will inform CILEx of the assessment results.
166. You will be advised, when you obtain your Certificate of Eligibility, to obtain and study a self-study manual in the law of evidence. This will assist you in your preparation for the evidence test.

167. Once you have passed the advocacy skills course, we will send out your certificate confirming that you have been authorised as a CILEx Litigator and Chartered Legal Executive Advocate in criminal proceedings in the area of practice applied for and will send out your practising certificate.

NOTE: If you are seeking to practise litigation and advocacy in an entity regulated by CILEx Regulation and act as the Compliance Manager for that entity, you must also satisfy the requirements as set out in the Compliance Manager handbook and for entity regulation.

Where the application cannot be approved in the office

168. Where the external adviser has identified areas for further development in your application before you can be assessed as competent, you will be asked to provide further information, make representations to the Admissions and Licensing Committee or you may decide to withdraw your application.

Withdrawing your application

169. If you decide to withdraw your application where the external adviser has assessed your application as not yet competent, your application will be cancelled. Your fee will not be refunded. If you would like to seek authorisation as a CILEx Litigator and Chartered Legal Executive Advocate in the future, you will be required to make a fresh application.

The Admissions and Licensing Committee

170. If you decide to continue with your application, you should provide additional supporting information to demonstrate your competence and/or make representations to the Committee as to your competence.
171. Once your additional information has been received, your application will be presented to the next available meeting of the Admissions and Licensing Committee for their decision.
172. The Committee may decide to approve or refuse your application.
173. If the Committee determines that your application demonstrates that you are competent to become a CILEx Litigator/undertake the advocacy skills course, we will write to you confirming that you have been successful in your application as a CILEx Litigator and that you have received your certificate of eligibility to undertake the advocacy skills course.

Advocacy skills course

174. On the award of a Certificate of Eligibility you will be eligible to undertake the advocacy skills course.

The course will be of at least 6 days duration and must involve formal assessments of advocacy skills and a test in the law of evidence. The course provider will be responsible for testing and will inform CILEx of the assessment results.
176. You will be advised, when you obtain your Certificate of Eligibility, to obtain and study a self-study manual in the law of evidence. This will assist you in your preparation for the evidence test.
177. Once you have passed the advocacy skills course, we will send out your certificate confirming that you have been authorised as a CILEx Litigator and Chartered Legal Executive Advocate in criminal proceedings and will send out your practising certificate.

NOTE: If you are seeking to practise litigation and advocacy in an entity regulated by CILEx Regulation and act as the Compliance Manager for that entity, you must also satisfy the requirements as set out in the Compliance Manager handbook and for entity regulation.

178. If the Committee determines that your application does not demonstrate that you have yet met the competence requirements necessary to become a Litigator and Advocate they will refuse your application.
179. In this situation, your application will be cancelled. Your fee will not be refunded. If you would like to seek authorisation as a CILEx Litigator and Chartered Legal Executive Advocate you will be required to make a fresh application.
180. You may appeal the outcome of the Committee's decision. The rules governing appeal are located in the Admissions and Licensing Committee's rules and Investigation, Disciplinary and Appeal Rules.

10. CILEx Regulation will consider the quality of experience that an applicant has gained, as well as the quantity of their experience. In considering the quality of experience an applicant has gained, CILEx Regulation will look at various factors such as the seriousness and complexity of cases handled, difficult cases handled, the nature of the matter and the types of hearings that have been undertaken.
11. CILEx Regulation will recognise that applicants could have had a break in their experience due to factors such as career breaks, job changes, maternity or paternity leave, long term illness, or disability. CILEx Regulation will not discriminate directly or indirectly against an applicant whose experience has been affected in this way. However, CILEx Regulation will need to ensure that an applicant has an acceptable level of experience.
12. Where an applicant has had a break in their experience, they may provide details of experience gained during a different period when they were more actively engaged in practice in the area where rights are sought. However, the break must not have been longer than 5 years. In exceptional circumstances, applications may be accepted from applicants who have had a break longer than 5 years.

Evaluating Advocacy Experience

20. CILEx Regulation will need to be satisfied that an applicant is actively undertaking advocacy. In considering whether an applicant is an active advocate, CILEx Regulation will take into account advocacy experience that an applicant has gained outside their normal area of work. It will also take into account that advocacy is part of the dispute resolution process and may be reflected in successful case preparation, negotiation, arbitration and mediation.
21. CILEx Regulation will also need to be satisfied that applicants have extensive first hand experience of the style and standards of practice and advocacy expected in the course for which they are seeking extended rights of audience.
22. An applicant will be expected to have observed advocacy in those areas where currently no rights of audience exist, but where they will be granted rights upon completion of the course. Applicants will be required to state the number of cases they have observed and indicate the nature of the cases concerned.
23. CILEx Regulation will take a balanced view about an applicant's experience in deciding whether it is sufficient to grant them a Certificate of Eligibility, particularly where they rely in part on observed advocacy.
24. CILEx Regulation will recognise that applicants could have had a break in their experience due to factors such as career breaks, job changes, maternity or paternity leave, long term illness, or disability. CILEx Regulation will not discriminate directly or indirectly against an applicant whose experience has been affected in this way. However, CILEx Regulation will need to ensure that an applicant has an acceptable level of experience.
25. Where an applicant has had a break in their experience, they may provide details of experience gained during a different period when they were more actively engaged in practice in the area where rights are sought. However, the break must not have been longer than 5 years. In exceptional circumstances, applications may be accepted from applicants who have had a break longer than 5 years.
26. There may be other factors which affect an applicant's experience in the preceding 2 years. CILEx Regulation will consider details of more active periods from applicants whose experience discloses a pattern that they regard as atypical.

ASSESSMENT CRITERIA AND FRAMEWORK DOCUMENT FOR ADVOCACY SKILLS COURSES

GENERAL

Assessment Criteria

The competence of candidates will be assessed in accordance with the criteria set out in this annex by means of case studies relating to a trial or an application.

Assessment Standard

The standard of competence for each assessment will be 50% and candidates will be required to meet this standard of attainment for each formal assessment to attain an overall level of competence. This requirement only applies to formal assessments and candidates will not be required to reach this standard on the formative assessments which will take place at various stages during the Advocacy Skills Course. Course providers will decide which assessments will be formally assessed.

The Assessment Organisation(s) will be required to develop their own mark and weighting bands for each element of the formal assessment criteria to be approved by CILEx Regulation. Assessors should have the flexibility to mark in between the weighting bands devised by the Assessment Organisation(s).

Assessors will retain a general discretion to determine overall competence even if a candidate reaches the appropriate mark of 50% in each formal assessment. The following is a non-exhaustive list of examples that may affect the assessor's overall assessment of competence:

- errors relating to gross professional misconduct;
- fundamental errors of law / evidence / procedure;
- making a majority of submissions from a prepared script;
- engaging in inappropriate court room behaviour.

Written Test

The standard that candidates seeking open court rights of audience will be required to achieve in evidence will be comparable to the standard required generally. However, the marks required to achieve a comparable standard may be higher than 50% where a multiple choice question format is adopted. The nature of the written test and the proposed standard of competence will be considered by the Admissions and Licensing Committee.

Resubmissions

A candidate who is assessed as being not yet competent in one or more of the formal assessments will be allowed one further opportunity to achieve the required standard of competence in relation to that assessment(s). If they are successful they may be awarded a pass mark. If they are still assessed as being not yet competent on this resubmission then they will be required to undertake all the assessments again before they can achieve the appropriate level of competence.

A candidate who is unable to complete one or more of the formal assessments owing to ill health or other such cause, beyond their control, will be allowed a further opportunity to achieve the required standard of competence.

Professional Conduct

Case studies will enable candidates to be assessed on their ability to recognise and deal with issues of professional and ethical conduct in the course of advocacy. The conduct issues to be assessed may include:

- The overriding duty to the court.
- The duty not to engage in conduct which is dishonest/discreditable, prejudicial to the administration of justice or likely to diminish public confidence in the administration of justice or the legal profession.
- The duty to the client to promote and protect their interests, to act in good faith towards them and to avoid or deal with any conflict.
- The interests of the client and the advocate, their employer and any other party to the proceedings.
- The duty not to discriminate against, nor treat less favourably any person, including the client, on the grounds of their age, race, colour, ethnic or national origin, sex, sexual orientation, religion or political persuasion of the client.
- The duty of confidentiality in relation to a client's affairs and misuse of confidential information.
- The duties owed to other advocates in court.

APPENDIX 3: DRAFT ADVOCACY PORTFOLIOS

PORTFOLIO FORM – CRIMINAL CASE

Provide a concise description of the case, its progression and outcome

My client was charged with an offence of Common Assault.

He was of good character.

He was retired from full time teaching however he was working part time at a local school which educates children whom are not in mainstream education due to their behavioural and educational needs.

The complainant in the case was a pupil at the school and he alleged that my client had deliberately punched him to the left cheek, causing reddening and bruising.

The complainant's account of the incident was that my client had prevented him from leaving the classroom, as he had been asked to do, and he (the pupil) then pushed past my client to get out. The pupil alleged that my client then grabbed his arm in response to which the pupil motioned to head butt him. It is said to be at this point that my client threw the punch.

My client's version of events was that he had asked the pupil to leave the classroom due to his disruptive behaviour and upon doing so the pupil intentionally barged into him. He denied that he had prevented the pupil from leaving the room. My client's response to the contact was to say "don't you dare push me" and with that pupil then head butted my client and made contact with his left eye. My client's reaction was to put his arm out in a defensive strike. He was unsure if any contact was made with the pupil but if it was then it wasn't deliberate and done in self-defence.

The issue in the case was limited to whether the strike by my client was deliberate or defensive.

There were two witnesses to the incident, both of whom were teaching assistants in the room at the time. They supported the Crown's case that the contact made by my client was deliberate.

My client was interviewed as a volunteer at the local police station a month after the incident. He gave the account as stated above, both verbally and by producing a copy of a written report he had prepared the same day for the school's internal inquiry.

The matter proceeded to a two day trial before a District Judge at the local Magistrates Court.

My client was represented by counsel at the hearing.

He was acquitted by the District Judge and her finding was that my client had been assaulted by the pupil on two occasions during the incident in question and he had acted entirely reasonably in self defence of himself.

A costs order was awarded to my client who was a private paying client as he was not eligible for legal aid.

Outline the law arising in the case and its application to the facts of the case

Common assault is an offence contrary to section 39 of the Criminal Justice Act 1988.

The law is unclear on whether common assault and battery are statutory or common law offences. The Divisional court in DPP v Taylor and DPP v Little held that they are statutory offences whereas in Haystead v DPP, an obiter opinion was expressed by the Divisional Court that Common assault and battery remained common law offences.

In practice the offence is generally charged as being contrary to statute, and the wording of the offence is generally '....assaulted by beating...'.

Common assault is a summary offence which carries the Magistrates maximum power of 6 months imprisonment (to be altered to 51 weeks under the Criminal Justice Act 2003 albeit not yet in force) or a fine.

The term assault is often used to include both an assault and battery and it is defined as an act by which a person intentionally or recklessly causes a person to apprehend immediate unlawful violence or to suffer violence.

In this particular trial the Crown's case was put on the basis that my client intentionally made unlawful physical contact with the victim, in that he deliberately punched him.

My client's defence was one of self defence.

Self defence is provided for by both Common Law and Statute Law, namely section 3 of the Criminal Law Act 1967.

At common law the principle is that 'a person is entitled to use reasonable force as is necessary to protect himself....'

At statute it states that 'a person may use such force as is reasonable in the circumstances in the prevention of a crime....'

The Criminal Justice and Immigration Act 2008 clarified the principles of reasonableness and confirmed that the question of whether the force used by someone was reasonable in the circumstance is to be considered with regard to the circumstances as that person believed them to be, and whether that belief of the circumstances was a genuinely held belief. Section 76 of the Criminal Justice and Immigration Act 2008 doesn't operate to change the older law it is simply a tool to clarify it.

In the circumstances of this case, my client's use of force was to try and prevent a head butt from the complainant. His case was that by putting out his arm to try and block the complainant's forehead making contact with him was a reasonable response to the attack he faced. His genuinely held belief was that the head butt would make contact if not prevented, and thereby cause him injury if not know him unconscious. In addition although the complainant was only young he was only slightly smaller than my client but of similar build. Based on those circumstances my client sought to persuade the court that his actions operated as a complete defence to the offence of assault.

Summarise the procedural or process issues that arose in the case. Your answer should include the Court, and in civil cases, the track to which the case was allocated

The case was tried summarily by a District Judge sitting at the local Magistrates court.

My client received the requisition in the post. The requisition is the document setting out the charge for which he is due to appear and the date which he is to attend the Magistrates court. This particular method of bringing a case to court is legislated for by Section 29 of the Criminal Justice Act 2003. It was dated within the six month time limit, which is applied to summary only offences.

Common assault is generally an offence tried only by Magistrates but in certain circumstances can be tried on indictment, for example if the common assault is founded upon the same facts alleging an indictable offence, these circumstances are provided for under section 40 of the Criminal Justice Act 1988. Such circumstances were absent from this case so the trial was held in the lower court.

My client appeared unrepresented at the first hearing when he entered a not guilty plea and the case was set down for trial. He sought legal representation two days before the listed Pre trial review.

My client's instructions were obtained during an appointment in my office. It was decided, on the basis of those instructions, that we would not be ready for trial as a number of enquiries had been identified which had to be pursued in readiness for the trial, an application to vacate the trial was therefore made at the pre trial review hearing.

The court agreed to move the trial to a new date and various case management orders were made with regards the service of the complainant's transcript of evidence, editing of such transcript, the bad character applications and responses and any hearsay notices.

A further hearing was set to enable the court to ensure that all matters were in hand and that the trial date was still achievable.

At the pre trial review hearing some three weeks later the District Judge assigned herself to the case and took over the management of it for trial. By the time of this hearing the Crown had served some information on the defence dealing with the victim's previous bad behaviour. The issue of the bad character application was raised and the Crown agreed to the admission of the information they had supplied. Any further documents/evidence would be considered when received but as a general principle the prosecutor helpfully indicated in open court that they would not seek to oppose our application providing some documentary evidence of some sort was available to support the behaviour complained of.

Matters such as witness requirements and special measures were also agreed between the parties.

The case was then further listed for a mention hearing to ensure that any outstanding disclosure issues had been dealt with.

During the interim the Local Education Authority notified us that they were seeking Public Interest Immunity (PII) in their file. This indication required us to make an application to the court for disclosure.

It involved me applying for a witness summons under the Criminal Procedure Rules, rule 28.4. This was a written application setting out whom I required the summons for, and their full name and address etc, what documents I believed they held and the reasons why the documents/ evidence is material to the issues in the case. In my application I set out the nature of the evidence I sought and how it was important to my client's case. This is necessary because the court will not order disclosure on the basis of a defence 'fishing expedition' in the hope some useful material may arise, it had to be evidence that it is relevant and admissible; R v reading Justices, ex parte Berkshire County Court (1996).

The court issued a summons for the production of local authority files, under section 97 of the Magistrates Court Act 1980.

A hearing was then held to deal specifically with this issue. The legal representative from the local authority had highlighted in her file of papers the documents which she felt fell into the relevant category and it was the job of the District Judge to go through all the material and make a ruling on what she felt ought to be disclosed, if anything.

The defence also made oral submissions to the Judge at the hearing identifying what material we sought in order to achieve our aim with regards the bad character application.

The hearing was successful for the defence and several reports were disclosed which evidenced other incidents involving aggressive behaviour displayed by the complainant. The details of such incidents were subsequently adduced at trial and the complainant cross examined upon them.

The PII hearing was the last hearing in this case before the trial.

Two weeks before trial I completed a certificate of readiness for which is required by the court to confirm that the case was now ready for trial.

The trial lasted two days and was heard by the District Judge.

A final process issue that arose in this case was in relation to the defence witness. The witness was another teacher whom had witnessed a previous assault upon my client by the complainant in question.

Her contact details were provided by the client and contact was made with her. Due to the teacher's work commitments she agreed to send me, via e-mail, her account of the earlier incident and I would then be aware of what she had to say and if necessary arrangements could be made to take a section 9 witness statement from her. She agreed also to attend the trial and give evidence. Her e-mail however never came and two days before the trial, after numerous unsuccessful attempts to make contact with her again, she e-mailed to say that she wouldn't be attending and what she had to say wouldn't help my client's case.

This e-mail came after I had sent a letter advising her I would be seeking a witness summons to compel her attendance if I didn't hear from her.

In order to avoid any issues at trial a witness summons was again sought under the Magistrates Court Act 1980. The application was again a written application on the same form as the summons for the PII. A witness summons was granted but subsequently not served (see discussion below – decisions).

Summarise the evidential issues that arose in the case and how you dealt with them

The question of bad character evidence arose in this case. My client instructed me that this was not the first time he had been assaulted by this pupil nor was it the first time the pupil had actually assaulted a teacher. I was told that this could be evidenced by way of school records which log such incidents and from another teacher who was witness to the previous assault on my client. This was clearly going to be important evidence and accordingly a bad character application was made in accordance with section 100 of the Criminal Justice Act 2003.

The grounds for our application were that the type of behaviour we were seeking to adduce comes within the definition of bad character as defined by section 98 of the Criminal Justice Act 2003. That definition being '....evidence of or a disposition towards, misconduct on his part...'

Misconduct is defined within section 112 of the Criminal Justice Act 2003 as the commission of an offence or reprehensible behaviour. Reprehensible behaviour is defined in the Oxford English Dictionary as '....At fault, in the wrong...'

The defence therefore proposed to argue that the evidence of the previous behaviour, as produced by the school records and by witness statement from the other teacher, amounted to bad character.

The ground for admissibility under the 2003 Act were section 100 (1) (a) (b) (i) and (ii).

Section 100 (1) relates to the evidence of bad character of a non defendant, which in this case was the victim, and subsections (a) and (b) relate to whether the evidence in this case is of explanatory importance and has substantial probative value to the case.

In order to meet these requirements the defence argued it was important for the court to be aware of the evidence in order for them to assess whether the actions of my client were reasonable given the knowledge he (my client) had about how the situation could develop given the previous incidents. In assessing the probative value of the evidence the defence maintained that the nature of this evidence goes to show the behaviour displayed on other occasions by the pupil and how the pupil reacts to requests he does not like, given the defence case was he was the aggressor throughout the court could not properly consider this evidence without knowing his previous pattern of behaviour.

The Crown served upon the defence a notice of intention to adduce hearsay evidence. Their application was seeking to put into evidence the account of the incident as told by the pupil to the head teacher immediately after the event.

The admissibility of hearsay evidence in criminal proceedings is governed by section 114 of the Criminal Justice Act 2003. The Crown's application was on the basis that Section 118 of the Criminal Justice Act 2003 preserved certain common law grounds of admissibility, in particular for this case, section 1 (4) (a), Res Gestae.

Res Gestae relates to a 'statement made by a person who was so emotionally overpowered by an event that the possibility of concoction or distortion can be disregarded'. The Crown's submission was that the head teacher's account of what the pupil told her would reveal consistency in what the victim told her on the day of the incident, and what he later told the police when video interviewed. In addition to this they also sought admission under section 114 (1) (d) of the 2003 Act which allows for admission if the court is satisfied that it is in the interests of justice to do so. Again their submission related to the importance of showing consistency in the pupil's account.

Section 114 (2) of the 2003 Act details several factors which the court must have regard to when admitting the hearsay evidence.

In this particular case however the defence agreed to the evidence being admitted and therefore the court allowed the evidence under section 114 (1) (c) as all parties were in agreement that it be properly obtained.

In relation to the defence bad character application, in order to progress it, it was necessary for us to obtain the relevant information to support it. This was done by dual means.

The first route we took to seek disclosure of any information pertaining to the victim's previous behaviour was to draft and serve a defence case statement. The statement was served in accordance with the Criminal Procedure and Investigations Act 1996, section 6. Service of a defence statement is obligatory in Crown Court cases but in the Magistrates it is discretionary.

The defence case statement must deal with the following points;

1. The nature of the accused's defence
2. The evidence with which he takes issue
3. The reasons for taking such issue
4. Particularise the matters of fact on which he intends to rely.

The latter issue only became required under the Criminal Justice and Immigration Act 2008.

Once a statement is served the duty is then on the prosecution to consider the contents of that statement and examine whether any further material ought to be disclosed. An application can be made to the court for disclosure if there is any dispute with material to be disclosed.

The second means of securing disclosure of relevant documents was to make an application to the local education authority for disclosure from their files of any materials which would support our contention concerning the pupil's previous misbehaviour. In the event such material is held on file it is then considered by the court as to its relevance and whether it ought to be disclosed. (See procedure section for discussion)

Finally an application was made on behalf of the victim for him to have special measures for when he gives evidence.

The giving of evidence in criminal proceedings for young, vulnerable or intimidated witnesses is governed by the Youth Justice and Criminal Evidence Act 1999. Section 16 was applicable in this case due to the age of the witness (victim). Section 16 provides assistance by way of live link to give evidence at the trial for anyone under the age of 17 years, it is an automatic right and on this basis the defence did not seek to oppose it, and in fact had no grounds on which to oppose it.

At the end of the trial, counsel for the defence in her closing speech reminded the District Judge of the defendant's evidence of his previous good character. A defendant of previous good character is entitled to rely on that good character and although it is not a defence it does go to the question of his credibility and propensity. For that reason the court is entitled to take it into account when considering the case.

Provide a summary of any ethical or conduct issues that arose in the case and how you dealt with them

The main conduct issue in this case arose in relation to the defence witness.

The witness was a teacher at the school also and initially agreed that she could help by giving evidence of a previous assault by the pupil in question. She agreed to come to court and give such evidence.

The nearer the trial got however the less contact that we were starting to have with her which started our concern. Very shortly before the trial she was not returning calls nor was she responding to letters or emails.

Unfortunately at this stage I hadn't got a statement as she had agreed to forward by email her account of the incident. We hadn't been able to meet up due to her work commitments so at the time this was the only way of obtaining her account, although the account never subsequently came.

This posed a question for my client as to whether I summons her to court or whether we go on without her. The latter option was chosen by my client (see decisions section for discussion) although a witness summons had been applied for.

One potential ethical issue that arose in this case was in relation to payment of my client's legal fees.

My client didn't qualify for legal aid so he was funding the case privately. He advised us that the school had agreed to pay part of his legal fees and initially I was concerned as to whether that was appropriate given three teachers from that school were due to give evidence at the trial contrary to my client's account and in favour of the pupil. I dealt with this by discussing my thoughts with my head of department. We both concluded that it wasn't an issue as the prosecution was by the pupil and not the school, and although the teachers were party to the proceedings, the school as an entity was not party to the case.

As it turned out in any event the client was going to put the money up front and the school would later reimburse him so the money we received on account from the client was from him.

Provide a summary of the funding issues that arose in the case and how you dealt with them

During my initial meeting with the client it was quickly established that due to his income he would not qualify for Legal Aid.

The Legal Aid officers at the Magistrates Court apply a two strand test when considering whether not a legal aid order is granted in a case.

The first strand of the test is to consider if it is in the Interests of Justice and secondly the means of the applicant.

In this particular case my client was fail to meet the means test as his income was more than the specified limit of £22,325.

The interests of justice test will consider matters such as whether an applicant is at risk of going to prison, whether questions of law are involved that would require the skill of a legal representative and whether it's in the interests of the witnesses that the applicant is not dealing with the case alone.

The client was provided with a quotation of our costs for preparing his case for trial and representing him in the proceedings.

My firm initially asked for a proportion of the costs to commence the work that had been identified and then requested the remaining monies be paid and cleared into our account one week before the trial. This was duly done by our client.

The client informed us that his employer, the school, had agreed to share his legal costs with him. He was to sort out obtaining the costs from them.

At the end of the trial because my client was acquitted it allowed counsel on our behalf to make an application for a defendant's costs order.

The Magistrates can order a defendant's costs order when a '...magistrates court dealing summarily with an offence dismisses the information...' This is provided for by section 16 of the Prosecution of Offences Act 1985. The court did not award a fixed sum it allowed for our bill to be taxed by the National Taxing Team.

Our bill was subsequently prepared and sent for taxing and payment made thereafter. Of course the funds paid to us by our client were refunded to him.

Outline any research that you undertook into law or procedure when handling this case

Most of the research I conducted in this case related to the procedure before the Magistrates Court as this was one of the first cases that I had responsibility for in the lower court. The advocacy of course was conducted by my head of department, then counsel, but day to day preparation on the file was conducted by myself. The majority of my experience was dealing with crown Court cases and therefore I was anxious to ensure that I was fully aware of the procedure and case management issues that would arise before the magistrates. I attended all hearing with my head of department so I was fully aware of what happened, what ancillary trial orders were made, and of course to show continuity to the client. This enabled me to make sure that the case was always fully prepared for each particular hearing and all orders were complied with.

I spoke with the legal adviser at the local Magistrates Court on a few occasions too when dealing with applications for summons for the PII and the defence witness and again this was simply to ensure that I was following the correct protocol for their court.

With regards to the law, despite the fact that I had had experience in responding to bad character applications served on behalf of the prosecution in relation to the defendant's bad character, I hadn't had much experience in applying for a non defendant's bad character. Part of the reason for this being that counsel generally deal with such applications in the Crown Court and so the opportunity to prepare applications myself was not as frequent. In order to prepare the application I did reconsider and research the provisions of the Criminal Justice Act 2003, in particular section 100 and the ground applicable thereafter.

Summarise any decisions you had to make, how you made them and whether you had to take any advice on strategic issues in the case

The service of a defence case statement is discretionary in the Magistrates Court.

The disadvantages in doing so are that you are giving the prosecution early notice of your client's case and secondly you are relying on your client having told you everything he/she is likely to cover during the course of his/her evidence, because of course anything that is missing out of the statement could subsequently form part of your client's cross examination if he departs or adds to the account he has given in the statement. It therefore has to be considered very carefully whether to submit a statement in circumstances which doesn't actually require you to.

The advantage however is it may render further material to be disclosed to us that's helpful to our client's case.

Service of a statement was a decision that we had to take in this case.

The matter was discussed fully with my client and the above pro's and con's aired. It was decided that we would serve a statement.

This decision was reached on the basis that my client's account had not changed in any respect despite the fact that on three occasions he had been asked to give it. The first occasion was when he made a written account of the incident for the school internal enquiry, secondly he provided the same account during the police interview and thirdly in his instructions to me. This gave is confidence that he would not materially depart from a defence statement and then fall foul under cross-examination.

Another decision that had to be taken as part of the case was in relation to pursuing the defence witness.

At the start of the case when I had initially spoken to her she was a willing witness and appeared to be supportive of my client's case, albeit a full account was not taken from her at that stage for reasons referred to above. She was happy for me to make contact and agreed to send me her account via email for me to consider the relevance and usefulness of what she had to say. However just shortly before the trial the contact stopped and I was unable to get hold of her. She was not responding to calls nor answering my letters. I was growing more concerned seeing as she hadn't yet sent me her account either. A decision had to be taken as to whether we summons her or not pursue her further. My client felt that her sudden lack of willingness may be due to pressure she was having at school, as she still worked there and still taught the pupil in question. He felt she was maybe not strong enough to stand by him at trial then go back to her job. Nonetheless I had my client's interests at the forefront of my mind and we discussed carefully what we ought to do. Our initial decision was to summons her, this had with it its own problems seeing as I didn't actually have a full statement at that time the court may be more cautious about granting a summons for someone we just believed could help, also summoning a witness can sometimes turn a simple situation hostile and I didn't want this to have a negative effect. We had decided to summons her for the first day of the trial to try and obtain a statement from her then and then I would have the chance to assess her attitude to the case and whether in fact she would help. Event were somewhat overtaken though when close to trial the witness emailed me to say that she would not come voluntarily and what she had to say would not help my client's case. We therefore had to reconsider our position as I was worried about damaging the defence case with an 'unknown' witness.

The one disadvantage identified to not using her was that we had no other means of evidence of one particular incident and it was important in the sense that we were relying upon it in support of our bad character application, on the other hand however we had secured by way of PII disclosure, school reports of other incidents of violent and aggressive behaviour by the pupil and therefore the application was not wholly lost or without merit. Another consideration had to be whether it was wise to summons a witness who is likely to go hostile in the witness box (as per the indication in her last email). If she turned hostile we had no ammunition, like a signed statement from her, to then apply to the court to treat her as such. The pro's and con's were discussed at length with my client and he made the final decision and that was to leave her out and not pursue the summons.

For both decisions that faced me I discussed the matters fully with my head of department who agreed with my reasoning and analysis of the situations.

Summarise any training or development needs you identified while you dealt with this case

Given this was one of the first cases I had dealt with before the Magistrates Court it was immediately apparent that I had to familiarise myself with the case management procedure before the lower court in the event it was different to protocol followed in the Crown Court, where the bulk of my experience has been. I therefore took the opportunity to attend at the Magistrates Court with my head of department when possible, and certainly at every hearing of this case so I could expand my knowledge and become familiar with how things are done.

Similarly with the process for applying for witness summons for both the PII proceedings and the defence witness, this was something that albeit I didn't think would be any different as both courts use the same forms I wanted to ensure was done correctly so as to avoid any procedural error which may effect the case.

Perhaps the most obvious training need highlighted in this case was in relation to the situation with the witness. With hindsight I should have obtained an account from her myself at the first opportunity rather than agree to hear from her via email. I could have perhaps made myself more accessible to her around her work commitments and made it more difficult for her to say she couldn't make an appointment by me perhaps agreeing to see her in her lunch break or out of hours. This is definitely a situation I will deal with differently if it was to arise again.
