

Joint Advocacy Group consultation on regulatory changes to support the Quality Assurance Scheme for Advocates (Crime)

Proposed changes and questions

Proposed SRA regulatory changes

Proposed SRA Handbook regulatory changes

The SRA has set out the proposed changes to the SRA Handbook in two ways.

Firstly, each key feature of the QASA scheme—as listed 1-6 in the Introduction above—is set out, followed by a small number of other consequential amendments set out at 7. Each key feature is accompanied by the proposed amendments to the SRA Handbook and questions.

Secondly, all the amendments are attached in the order in which they appear in the SRA Handbook, to allow you to have an overview of all the amendments together.

The amendments are shown as follows: portions of text added to the regulatory requirements are shown in blue and underlined; deletions are in red and crossed out.

Finally, you may wish to note that the SRA will be consulting separately on a simultaneous but unrelated proposed amendment to its Higher Rights of Audience regulations, with the aim of removing an anomaly in relation to domestic and international advocates. That consultation will appear on the SRA website at www.sra.org.uk/consultations

1. The scheme proposes a single set of standards applying to advocates which identifies the skills and behaviours expected of a criminal advocate. The standards are a mandatory requirement for the practice of criminal advocacy.

SRA amendments

The following amendments to the SRA Higher Rights of Audience Regulations [2011], which as amended become the SRA Advocacy and Higher Rights of Audience Regulations (SAHRAR), ensure that compliance with the QASA requirements is mandatory for solicitor advocates appearing in criminal proceedings. Note that within the amended regulations, the terms "SAHRAR" "QASA", "JAG" and "statement of standards" will be defined by the Glossary to the SRA Handbook - see 7. (other consequential amendments) below.

SRA Advocacy and Higher Rights of Audience Regulations [2011]

Preamble

Authority: Made on the [the date of the approval of the Legal Services Board] by the Solicitors Regulation Authority Board under sections 2, 79 and 80 of the Solicitors Act 1974 with the approval of the Legal Services Board under paragraph 19 of Schedule 4 to the Legal Services Act 2007

Date: These regulations came into force on [\[date in force\]](#)

Replacing: Solicitors' Higher Rights of Audience Regulations 2010

Regulating: The qualifications and certification that solicitors and RELs require to conduct advocacy in criminal proceedings and to exercise rights of audience in the higher courts in England and Wales.

Overview

Outcomes-focused regulation concentrates on providing positive outcomes which when achieved will benefit and protect clients and the public. These regulations aim to ensure that solicitors and RELs who want to exercise rights of audience in ~~the higher courts of~~ England and Wales are competent to do so.

Solicitors and RELs are granted rights of audience in all courts upon qualification/registration but:

- must, in criminal proceedings, exercise those rights of audience only where certified under the QASA; and

Solicitors Regulation Authority – proposed changes

- cannot exercise those rights of audience in the higher courts until they have complied with additional requirements.

We are required to set the education and training requirements which you must comply with in order for these rights to be used in advocacy and in the higher courts. These regulations describe the certification and qualifications available, where rights can be transferred, and set out the process for eligibility to exercise rights of audience in the higher courts.

The intention is to give the public confidence that solicitor higher-court advocates have met the appropriate standards and adhere to the relevant Principles.

The Principles

These regulations form part of the Handbook, in which the 10 mandatory Principles are all-pervasive. They apply to all those we regulate and to all aspects of practice. Outcomes relevant to these regulations are listed beneath the Principles.

You must:

1. uphold the rule of law and the proper administration of justice;
2. act with integrity;
3. not allow your independence to be compromised;
4. act in the best interests of each client;
5. provide a proper standard of service to your clients;
6. behave in a way that maintains the trust the public places in you and in the provision of legal services;
7. comply with your legal and regulatory obligations and deal with your regulators and ombudsmen in an open, timely and co-operative manner.
8. run your business or carry out your role in the business effectively and in accordance with proper governance and sound financial and risk management principles;
9. run your business or carry out your role in the business in a way that encourages equality of opportunity and respect for diversity;
10. protect client money and assets.

Outcomes

The outcomes which apply to these regulations are that:

- O(AHR1) you have achieved the standard of competence required for advocacy in criminal proceedings, or of higher courts advocates;
- O(AHR2) you demonstrate this competence through objective assessment;
- O(AHR3) you maintain competence through relevant ongoing training; and
- O(AHR4) you act so that clients, the judiciary and the wider public, have confidence that ~~this has~~ Outcomes O\(AHR1\) – O\(AHR3\) have been demonstrated.

These outcomes, and the regulations that flow from them, apply to admitted solicitors, and RELS.

Regulation 2. Advocacy in criminal proceedings

- (1) You must be certified by us under the QASA in order to undertake advocacy in criminal proceedings.

Guidance note:

As solicitor or REL you have full rights of audience in criminal proceedings below Crown Court level. However, in accordance with SRA Principle 5, we require those rights to be exercised only where we certify your competence, under QASA, against standards which we set under section 27(2)(a)(ii) of the Courts and Legal Services Act 1990.

- Q 1.01 Please comment on these amendments in respect of any impacts you foresee on the interests of the proper administration of justice and the rule of law, or on the public interest.

- Q 1.02 Please add any other comments you may have on these amendments.

2. The scheme proposes a statement of standards for advocacy, with four levels, and advocates can be assessed, accredited and certified at any of these levels, and progress through the levels, by means of assessment either by:
- assessment organisation or
 - judicial evaluation.

The following amendments to the SRA Training Regulations [2011] Part 1 - Qualification Regulations and the (titled as amended) SAHRAR incorporate into the SRA's regulatory framework the requirements under QASA relating to the statement of standards.

SRA Training Regulations [2011] Part 1 – Qualification Regulations

Outcomes

The outcomes which apply to these regulations are that, if you qualify as a solicitor, you:

O(TR1) will have achieved and demonstrated a standard of competence appropriate to the work you are carrying out. In respect of criminal advocacy, this standard of competence is specified under the QASA by the statement of standards;

(2) In order to be certified at any criminal advocacy level, you must be assessed against the statement of standards by means of an assessment framework approved by us.

Regulation 9. Assessments

- (1) We shall:
- (i) issue guidelines and standards for the provision of competence assessments in higher courts civil advocacy and higher courts criminal advocacy, and assessment against the statement of standards by means of an assessment framework approved by us;
 - (ii) validate and authorise organisations to provide assessments; and
 - (iii) monitor the provision of assessments.

► Q 1.04 Please add any other comments you may have on these amendments.

3. The scheme proposes that the levels are connected, through guidance developed by JAG, to levels of cases. The usual expectation will be that advocates will not undertake work at a level higher than that at which they are certified but there will be circumstances in which the parties will agree that the level of advocate required for a case does not need to accord with the level of case.

The following amendment to the guidance to the (titled as amended) SAHRAR explain this expectation within the SRA's regulatory framework.

SRA Advocacy and Higher Rights of Audience Regulations [2011]

Regulation 2. Advocacy in criminal proceedings

Guidance note

...

In order to ensure competent performance, the usual expectation is that advocates will not undertake work at a level higher than that at which they are certified. However, there may be circumstances in which the parties will agree that the level of advocate required for a case does not need to accord with the level of case.

► Q 1.06 Please add any other comments you may have on this amendment.

4. The scheme proposes that advocates who remain at the same level will be required to be reaccredited after 5 years of practice at that level. Advocates who, after 5 years, are not reaccredited or have not progressed to a higher level will not be able to exercise their rights of audience in criminal proceedings without reconfirming their competence to do so.

The following amendment to the (titled as amended) SAHRAR incorporate into the SRA's regulatory framework the reaccreditation requirements under QASA.

► Q 1.08 Please add any other comments you may have on this amendment.

5. The scheme proposes that as the entry point into the scheme, each regulator's education and training pathway will prepare each advocate to meet the level 1 standard as the entry point into qualification

The following changes are proposed to elements of the SRA's education and training pathways, as follows:

- The Practice Skills Standards
- The Professional Skills Course Outcomes
- The Day One Outcomes, which are used as the basis for the assessment of transferring lawyers under the Qualified Lawyers' Transfer Scheme.

6. The scheme proposes that for reaccreditation, advocates who are conducting level 1 advocacy must evidence that, over the period of accreditation, they have demonstrated that they still meet the level 1 standard by means of assessed advocacy Continuing Professional Development (CPD) as specified by their regulator.

The following amendment to the SAHRAR, and to a guidance note to Regulation 3 of the SRA Training Regulations [2011] Part 3 - CPD Regulations, implement the CPD requirements relating to certification at level 1 under QASA.

SRA Advocacy and Higher Rights of Audience Regulations [2011]

Preamble

Authority: Made on the [the date of the approval of the Legal Services Board] by the Solicitors Regulation Authority Board under sections 2, 79 and 80 of the Solicitors Act 1974 with the approval of the Legal Services Board under paragraph 19 of Schedule 4 to the Legal Services Act 2007

Date: These regulations came into force on [\[date in force\]](#)

Replacing: Solicitors' Higher Rights of Audience Regulations 2010

Regulating: The qualifications and certification that solicitors and RELs require to conduct advocacy in criminal proceedings and to exercise rights of audience in the higher courts in England and Wales.

Overview

Outcomes-focused regulation concentrates on providing positive outcomes which when achieved will benefit and protect clients and the public. These regulations aim to ensure that solicitors and RELs who want to exercise rights of audience in ~~the higher courts of~~ England and Wales are competent to do so.

Solicitors and RELs are granted rights of audience in all courts upon qualification/registration but:

- must, in criminal proceedings, exercise those rights of audience only where certified by us in accordance with the QASA; and
- cannot exercise those rights of audience in the higher courts until they have complied with additional requirements.

We are required to set the education and training requirements which you must comply with in order for these rights to be used in advocacy in criminal proceedings and in the higher courts. These regulations describe the certification and qualifications available, where rights can be transferred, and set out the process for eligibility to exercise rights of audience in the higher courts.

The intention is to give the public confidence that solicitor higher-court advocates have met the appropriate standards and adhere to the relevant Principles.

The Principles

These regulations form part of the Handbook, in which the 10 mandatory Principles are all-pervasive. They apply to all those we regulate and to all aspects of practice. Outcomes relevant to these regulations are listed beneath the Principles.

You must:

Solicitors Regulation Authority – proposed changes

1. uphold the rule of law and the proper administration of justice;
2. act with integrity;
3. not allow your independence to be compromised;
4. act in the best interests of each client;
5. provide a proper standard of service to your clients;
6. behave in a way that maintains the trust the public places in you and in the provision of legal services;
7. comply with your legal and regulatory obligations and deal with your regulators and ombudsmen in an open, timely and co-operative manner.
8. run your business or carry out your role in the business effectively and in accordance with proper governance and sound financial and risk management principles;
9. run your business or carry out your role in the business in a way that encourages equality of opportunity and respect for diversity;
10. protect client money and assets.

Outcomes

The outcomes which apply to these regulations are that:

- O(AHR1) you have achieved the standard of competence required for advocacy in criminal proceedings, or of higher courts advocates;
- O(AHR2) you demonstrate this competence through objective assessment;
- O(AHR3) you maintain competence through relevant ongoing training; and
- O(AHR4) you act so that clients, the judiciary and the wider public, have confidence that ~~this has~~ Outcomes O\(AHR1\) – O\(AHR3\) have been demonstrated.

These outcomes, and the regulations that flow from them, apply to admitted solicitors, and REs.

1. Interpretation and definitions

Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions and interpretation provisions as set out within the SRA Glossary shall apply to these regulations.

2. Advocacy in criminal proceedings

- (1) You must be certified by us under the QASA in order to undertake advocacy in criminal proceedings.
- (2) In order to be certified at any criminal advocacy level, you must be assessed against the statement of standards by means of an assessment framework approved by us.
- (3) Certification of an advocate by us at any level of criminal advocacy under QASA lasts for a period of five years. At the end of that period, you must not undertake advocacy in criminal proceedings unless you are re-certified by us under the QASA.

Guidance note

As solicitor or REL you have full rights of audience in criminal proceedings below Crown Court level. However, in accordance with SRA Principle 5, we require those rights to be exercised only where we certify your competence, under QASA, against standards which we set under section 27\(2\)\(a\)\(ii\) of the Courts and Legal Services Act 1990.

In order to ensure competent performance, the usual expectation is that advocates will not undertake work at a level higher than that at which they are certified. However, there may be circumstances in which the parties will agree that the level of advocate required for a case does not need to accord with the level of case.

3. Rights of audience in the higher courts

Subject to the provisions of these regulations you may be authorised by us to exercise rights of audience in the higher courts.

Guidance note:

As a solicitor or REL you already have full rights of audience in Tribunals, Coroners' Courts, Magistrates' Courts, County Courts and European Courts. A qualification in ~~An application~~ ~~for~~ higher rights of audience allows you to also appear, subject to which qualification you obtain, in proceedings in the Crown Court, High Court, Court of Appeal and Supreme Court, and the criminal advocacy qualification certifies you under the QASA at level 2 of the statement of standards.

4. Qualifications to exercise extended rights of audience

- (1) If you meet the requirements of these regulations in respect of higher rights of audience, we may grant one or both of the following qualifications, which authorise you to conduct advocacy in the higher courts:
 - (a) Higher Courts (Civil Advocacy) Qualification which entitles the solicitor or REL to exercise rights of audience in all civil proceedings in the higher courts, including judicial review proceedings in any court arising from any criminal cause;
 - (b) Higher Courts (Criminal Advocacy) Qualification which:
 - (i) entitles the solicitor or REL to exercise rights of audience in all criminal proceedings in the higher courts and judicial review proceedings in any court arising from any criminal cause; and
 - (ii) certifies the solicitor or REL under the QASA at level 2 of the statement of standards.
- (2) If you have been granted a higher courts qualification by the Law Society or us under the previous regulations, you shall be deemed to have been granted the equivalent qualification or qualifications under regulation 3(1) above.

Guidance note

If you have been granted a higher courts advocacy qualification under previous regulations, you are not required to re-apply under these regulations.

5. Qualifying to exercise extended rights of audience

- (1) When applying for a higher courts advocacy qualification you must demonstrate to us that you are competent to undertake advocacy in the proceedings in relation to which you have applied by:
 - (i) successfully completing assessments prescribed by us; or
 - (ii) having gained an equivalent qualification in a comparable jurisdiction or a jurisdiction listed in Article 1 of the Establishment Directive and undertaken any further step(s) as may be specified by us under regulation 5.
- (2) We will issue standards against which the competence of those applying for a higher courts advocacy qualification and exercising those rights of audience conferred by the qualification awarded will be assessed. The standards do not form part of these regulations and may be amended from time to time by us.

6. Qualification gained in another jurisdiction and extended rights of audience

- (1) You may apply for a qualification to exercise rights of audience in all proceedings in the higher courts if you are a qualified lawyer in any comparable jurisdiction or a jurisdiction listed in Article 1 of the Establishment Directive.
- (2) Each application will be considered by us on its merits and we may require you to undertake such steps as we may specify in order to gain the qualification.

7. Conversion provisions for barristers and extended rights of audience

In accordance with paragraph 86 of Schedule 19 of the LSA, a barrister with existing higher rights of audience will automatically be awarded the solicitors' higher rights of audience when applying to the roll.

Guidance note

You will be required to declare when applying to be admitted to the roll that you were formerly a barrister with higher rights of audience and that you have no disciplinary proceedings in progress against you.

8. Conversion provision for RELs and extended rights of audience

If you are an REL who is granted a qualification listed in regulation 3(1), you shall keep that qualification upon being admitted as a solicitor.

9. Assessments

- (1) We shall:
 - (i) issue guidelines and standards for the provision of competence assessments in higher courts civil advocacy and higher courts criminal advocacy, and assessment against the statement of standards by means of an assessment framework approved by us;
 - (ii) validate and authorise organisations to provide assessments; and
 - (iii) monitor the provision of assessments.

Guidance note

You are not required to undertake any training before taking the assessments, but you may decide that you need to undertake additional training, which will be offered by assessment organisations. Whether or not you require additional training is a decision for you.

In satisfying the standards, you will need to comply with the relevant legislation and procedures in force at the time.

You can apply for the qualification in either civil or criminal proceedings. Assessment providers will offer assessments that cover the generic standards in evidence, ethics, advocacy and equality and diversity as well as specific standards in either civil or criminal proceedings. If you wish to obtain the qualification in both proceedings you must take both assessments.

A trainee may undertake the assessments but will not be permitted to exercise the rights until admission as a solicitor.

10. Continuing professional development

- (1) If you are undertaking advocacy in criminal proceedings at level 1 of the QASA you must demonstrate to us your continuing competence by meeting the requirements for assessed advocacy CPD specified under the QASA during the five-year period following certification and preceding re-certification.
- (2) If you have gained a higher courts advocacy qualification under regulation 3(1), you must undertake at least five hours of CPD relating to the provision of advocacy services in the higher courts in each of the first five CPD years following the grant of the qualification.
- (3) If you have gained a higher courts advocacy qualification under regulation 5(1) or are exercising any right of audience in the higher courts by virtue of any exemption you have under regulation 6, you must undertake at least five hours of CPD relating to the provision of advocacy services in the higher courts in each of the first five CPD years following the date of your first exercise of the right.

Guidance note

The requirements in regulation 10\(2\) and 10\(3\) are not an additional requirement to that required by the SRA Training Regulations Part 3 - CPD Regulations.

This requirement commences the CPD year following the year in which the qualification is awarded or from the date you first undertake advocacy in the higher courts if qualifying via a comparable qualification. It is up to you to decide what your training needs are in relation to the advocacy services you provide. Therefore, the training may be advocacy training, training on new procedures or on substantive law if relevant to higher court practice.

11. Applications and reviews

- (1) You shall make an application for higher rights of audience under these regulations in the manner prescribed by us and accompanied by the appropriate fee fixed from time to time.

Guidance note

An application for higher rights of audience should be made via our website – www.sra.org.uk.

Proposed ILEX Professional Standards regulatory changes

Proposed ILEX Professional Standards regulatory changes

Introduction

1. IPS proposes to amend the Rights of Audience Certification Rules to incorporate the principles developed by JAG for the quality assurance scheme for criminal advocacy.
2. The Rights of Audience Certification Rules set out the arrangements by which ILEX members can qualify and practise as Legal Executive Advocates in civil, criminal and family proceedings. The principles of the quality assurance scheme relate to criminal advocacy. Therefore at appropriate instances IPS has differentiated between rules applicable to the criminal advocacy scheme and those applicable to the civil and family advocacy scheme.
3. The amendments that IPS proposes to make to the Rights of Audience Certification Rules are shown in 'track change'. In some instances they are purely administrative changes, such as changes to rule numbers which have occurred by the introduction of additional rules. The following summary outlines the substantive changes that have been made to the Rules.

Separating rules from course and entry criteria and reference to the scheme principles

4. The Rights of Audience Rules include the entry criteria and the course qualification criteria as appendices to the Rules. IPS has removed the entry and course criteria, which will now appear in a separate document titled 'the Rights of Audience qualification scheme documents'. This is because it is believed specific references to document numbers within the Rules is inflexible and unnecessary. The change will not affect the need for approval by the LSB for amendments to the Rules in the future.
5. The Rules now include a reference that the entry and course criteria reflect those principles introduced by JAG in respect of the criminal advocacy scheme.

- Q 2.01 Should IPS separate the entry and course criteria from the Rights of Audience Certification Rules. If not please give reasons.

Definitions

6. The definitions appearing at Rule 1 have been updated to include appropriate references to new definitions introduced by the advocacy quality assurance scheme. The new definitions are for authorised CPD provider, independent assessor, Joint Advocacy Group, judicial evaluation form, Statement of Criminal Advocacy Standards and QASA.

- ▶ Q 2.02 Provide any comments you have on the definitions added into the Rules. Do you agree that the definitions adequately reflect the principles of the quality assurance scheme? If not, please indicate any changes that should be made.

Appeals

7. The scheme proposed by JAG introduces an appeal panel that will consider appeals made against decisions to refuse or revoke reaccreditation or certification of a Legal Executive Advocate who holds or has held a criminal proceedings certificate.
8. The Rights of Audience Certification Rules have been developed to include the appeal structure introduced to hear these appeals. The right of appeal appears at Rule 22 and the detailed rules relating to appeals brought under this Rule appear within Rules 35 to 49.
9. Any appeal that does not fall within the ambit of the appeals introduced by the quality assurance scheme for criminal advocates will continue to be considered in accordance with existing appeal procedures appearing within Rules 20 and 21.

► Q 2.03 Do the appeal rules adequately reflect the proposals on appeals developed by JAG?

Reaccreditation and CPD

10. Under the quality assurance scheme ILEX advocates holding the criminal proceedings certificate fall within Level 1 advocates. Level 1 advocates will continue to be required to renew their first advocacy certificate one year after issue. This proposal is similar to the 'green plate' proposal developed by JAG in respect of other advocates.
11. After their first renewal advocates holding the criminal proceedings certificate will be required to meet reaccreditation requirements developed by JAG. These are that advocates must be reaccredited every 5 years and subject to that their certificates will be valid indefinitely. This is reflected at Rule 98.
12. To be reaccredited Advocates may either undertake assessed CPD incrementally during the 5 years to cover all of the level 1 standards developed by JAG or cover the standards by means of assessment by an assessment course provider accredited by JAG. The rules also provide for assessment by judicial evaluation, in accordance with the scheme, but it is not expected that such judicial evaluation will be introduced for level 1 reaccreditation at this stage. The reaccreditation arrangements appear at Rule 120.
13. Advocates will continue to be required to undertake 5 hours advocacy CPD each year as part of their normal ILEX Fellowship CPD. However, they will not be required to renew criminal advocacy certificates every 3 years as required under the existing scheme.
14. An advocate holding the criminal proceedings certificate who fails to comply with the requirements for reaccreditation will lose their certificate until such time as they meet the requirements of the quality assurance scheme. Failure to complete annual CPD may be dealt with under general CPD provisions and could also result in an advocacy certificate being suspended or cancelled. Rule 120 sets out that the certificate of an advocate who fails to meet reaccreditation provisions lapses and Rule 123, which has not changed, deals with general failures to meet CPD obligations.

► Q 2.04 Do the rules adequately reflect the proposals developed by JAG as to reaccreditation.

Conduct referrals and independent assessors

15. Under the scheme a judge may complete a CAEF (criminal advocacy evaluation form) to bring to the attention of JAG issues relating to the competence of an advocate. JAG will determine whether to refer the matter onto the appropriate regulator. Rule 125 has been introduced to confirm that IPS may receive referrals from JAG.
16. JAG proposes to appoint independent assessors to attend court to assess criminal advocates. Rule 127 has therefore been updated to enable IPS to ask an independent assessor to assess an ILEX advocate.

- Q 2.05 Do the rules adequately reflect the proposals developed by JAG that IPS may receive referrals about the competence of advocates from JAG and seek an independent assessor to assess an advocate.

Course entry criteria, outcomes and assessment criteria

17. The Rights of Audience Rules set out course entry criteria, the course outcomes and assessment criteria for the criminal proceedings course. IPS has reviewed these to ensure that they are consistent with the Statement of Criminal Advocacy Standards for Level 1 of the quality assurance scheme, in accordance with Rule 65.

18. IPS had identified that some amendments were required to the entry criteria, which are the knowledge and experience guidelines and the portfolio guidelines. It also identified some changes that were required to the course outcomes and assessment criteria. The amendments have been made and appear in the document headed Rights of Audience Qualification scheme.

- Q 2.06 Do the knowledge and experience guidelines, portfolio guidelines, course outcomes and assessment criteria adequately reflect the standards developed for the quality assurance scheme for advocates.

 - Reflect on his or her learning and make constructive use of feedback.
11. The Admissions and Licensing Committee may accept alternative evidence of the applicant's knowledge of criminal law and of criminal litigation other than the successful completion of the relevant head of the Level 6 Professional Higher Diploma in Law. The Applicant would need to provide evidence that the content of an alternative qualification substantially covered the criteria above and that the qualification was assessed at a comparable standard. An applicant who seeks to rely on knowledge gained through experience or means other than qualifications must submit evidence to the Admissions and Licensing Committee to demonstrate that he has knowledge of the law required by the competence criteria and that his level of knowledge is to a comparable standard to the Level 6 Professional Higher Diploma in Law.

Evaluating Experience

Litigation Experience

12. Applicants will be expected to have experience across a wide range of criminal proceedings and to be currently undertaking criminal litigation work. Their experience should include police station representation. Applicants should have handled cases from the beginning to the end of the process, which should include preparing cases for trial and undertaking post-trial work.
13. The quality of experience that an applicant has gained will be considered as well as the quantity of experience. In considering the quality of experience that an applicant has gained various factors will be taken into account such as the seriousness and complexity of cases handled and difficult cases handled.

Advocacy Experience

14. The Officer or Committee will have regard to the fact that it is likely members of the Institute who undertake criminal work will not have gained any advocacy experience in the criminal courts because they do not have rights of audience in those courts. The Officer or Committee may therefore take into account advocacy experience applicants have gained in other forums. They will also recognise that applicants may have gained advocacy experience through representing clients at police stations. Applicants will need to provide information as to the types of representation undertaken.
15. The Officer or Committee will also need to be satisfied that applicants have extensive first-hand experience of the style and standards of practice and advocacy expected in the courts for which they are seeking extended rights of audience.
16. Applicants will be expected to have observed advocacy in those areas where currently no rights of audience exist but where they will be granted rights upon completion of the course. Applicants will be required to state the number of cases that they have observed and indicate the nature of the cases concerned.

17. The Officer or Committee will need to take a balanced view about an applicant's experience in deciding whether his experience is sufficient to grant a Certificate of Eligibility particularly where an applicant relies in part on observed advocacy.

Career breaks/illness

18. The Officer or Committee will recognise that applicants may have had a break in their advocacy experience due to factors such as career breaks, job changes, maternity leave, long term illness or disability. The Officer or Committee will not discriminate either directly or indirectly against an applicant whose experience has been affected in this way but will need to ensure that the applicant does have an acceptable standard of advocacy or level of experience. Applicants who have been affected may provide details of experience gained during a different period when they were more actively engaged as advocates.

Other factors

19. There may be other factors which affect the number of appearances in the preceding two years, so that they would not give a fair picture of an applicant's experience and practice. The Officer or Committee will consider details of more active periods of advocacy from applicants whose advocacy record in the preceding two years discloses a pattern that they regard as atypical.

PORTFOLIO GUIDELINES

1. Applicants must provide details of 5 cases in which they have been involved which will demonstrate their experience in litigation relating to the type of proceedings for which they are seeking to qualify as an Advocate. Applicants for a Certificate of Eligibility in respect of Criminal Proceedings may include descriptions of advocacy they have undertaken or observed in place of cases in which they have provided police station advice. No more than 2 of the 3 cases may relate to observed advocacy, the remaining case or cases must relate to police station attendance or advocacy undertaken in criminal proceedings. Where the Applicant describes cases in which they have undertaken or observed advocacy, they must set out the information which applicants for civil and family proceedings certificates must set out in relation to their advocacy experience described at paragraph 6 above.

ASSESSMENT CRITERIA FOR ADVOCACY SKILLS COURSES

GENERAL

Assessment Criteria

The competence of candidates will be assessed in accordance with the criteria set out in this appendix by means of case studies relating to a trial or an application. Assessment in civil or family proceedings may be means of an application for committal.

Assessment Standard

All elements of the Assessment Criteria referred to below will be assessed out of a total mark of 100 for each assessment. The standard of competence for each assessment will be 50% and candidates are required to meet this standard of attainment for each formal assessment to attain an overall level of competence. This requirement only applies to formal assessments and candidates are not required to reach this standard on the formative assessments which will take place at various stages during the Advocacy Skills Course.

Assessors are not required to mark to the bands referred to in the weighting and may mark in between bands.

Assessors will retain a general discretion to determine overall competence even if a candidate reaches the appropriate mark of 50% in each formal assessment. The following are a non-exhaustive list of examples that may affect the assessor's overall assessment of competence:

- errors relating to gross professional misconduct;
- fundamental errors of law / evidence / procedure;
- making a majority of submissions from a prepared script;
- engaging in inappropriate court room behaviour.

Written Test

The standard candidates will be required to achieve in evidence will be comparable to the standard required generally. However, the marks required to achieve a comparable standard may be higher than 50% where a multiple choice question format is adopted. The nature of the written test and the proposed standard of competence will be considered by the Admissions and Licensing Committee.

Resubmissions

A candidate who fails one or more of the formal assessments will be allowed one further opportunity to achieve the required standard of competence. If he or she is successful they may be awarded a bare pass mark. A candidate who is unable to complete one or more of the formal assessments owing to ill health or other such cause, beyond their control, will be allowed a further opportunity to achieve the required standard of competence.

Professional Conduct

Case studies will enable candidates to be assessed on their ability to recognise and deal with issues of professional and ethical conduct in the course of advocacy in accordance with the Rights of Audience Conduct Rules. The conduct issues to be assessed may include:

- ◆ The overriding duty to the court.
- ◆ The duty not to engage in conduct which is dishonest/discreditable, prejudicial to the administration of justice or likely to diminish public confidence in the administration of justice or the legal profession.
- ◆ The duty to the client to promote and protect their interests, to act in good faith towards them and to avoid or deal with any conflict.
- ◆ The interests of the client and the advocate, his employer and any other party to the proceedings.
- ◆ The duty not to discriminate against, nor treat less favourably any person, including the client, on the grounds of their race, colour, ethnic or national origin, sex, sexual orientation, religion or political persuasion of the client.
- ◆ The duty of confidentiality in relation to a client's affairs and misuse of confidential information.
- ◆ The duties owed to other advocates in court.

Proposed Bar Standards Board regulatory changes

Proposed Bar Standards Board regulatory changes

1. The BSB proposes that a separate annex to the Code of Conduct should be introduced which sets out the requirements on advocates under the Scheme. In addition to this annex minor amendment has been made to the main body of the Code to introduce reference to the Scheme in respect of competence to undertake a particular piece of advocacy. The proposed Rules are set out below.
2. The proposed Rules set out the scope of the Scheme and provide the requirements for accreditation, re-accreditation and progression under the Scheme. In addition, the Rules set out the approach to assessment and the mechanisms for appealing decisions under the Scheme.
3. The detail of the Scheme has been approved by the Bar Standards Board; this consultation therefore seeks comment on the proposed Rules.
4. The Rules will be complemented by the Scheme Handbook which will provide more administrative level detail on the operation of the Scheme as well as guidance for advocates. The Handbook will be published in November 2011.
5. General comments on the Rules are invited. In addition, specific comments are welcome on:
 - ▶ Q 3.01 whether the Rules create any difficulty in their application either for individual barristers or for any particular group (protected groups or otherwise) of advocates; and

- Q 3.02 the impact of the Rules on the interests of the proper administration of justice and the rule of law, or on the public interest.

Specialist Practitioners

6. The focus of the Scheme at present is on the conventional criminal practitioner and the framework of the Scheme was designed on that basis. In doing so, it is recognised that those advocates who occasionally appear in non-conventional criminal matters in the criminal courts will not usually be able to meet the requirements laid down in the Scheme Rules in order to be accredited. There are a range of specialist practitioners with varied practice models who fall within this category. In order to give this matter due consideration, a small group was established with representatives from the main specialist areas of practice where this issue particularly arises. That Group has now reported its preliminary findings. From initial discussions within the Joint Advocacy Group, it is agreed that the underlying principle must be that the Scheme should not prevent specialist practitioners who are currently competent to take on work before the Criminal Courts from continuing to do so;
7. Whilst no final detailed view on whether, and if so how, the Scheme should extend to specialist practitioners has been reached, the current thinking on the relationship between the Scheme and this type of practitioner is set out below:
 - i. The regulatory risk posed by these practitioners is small given the numbers and the infrequent nature of their appearance in the criminal courts and the clients in such cases are likely to be informed in the sense that they too are experienced in their particular field and instruct counsel on the advocate's similar expertise;
 - ii. Clients in these cases will tend to have in place their own quality assurance processes by way of Panels of advocates who will be vetted, or block contracting in which quality of advocacy skills will be a necessary component. Clients tend to have existing relationships with particular firms of solicitors or Barristers Chambers who specialise in the particular areas of work in question and therefore are experienced in these type of cases and the issues and sensitivities they involve;
 - iii. Enforcement investigations by Regulatory Bodies will often start as joint criminal and regulatory investigations and it is only much later on that a decision is made whether the evidence and public interest justifies a criminal prosecution or a regulatory disposal. If the Scheme applies, a specialist advocate instructed in such a case for either side may be put in the invidious position of having to explain to the client that, although they can advise on the investigation, if a decision is taken to institute criminal proceedings, their involvement must cease.

8. In the light of this analysis, it is seen to be disproportionate and unnecessary to bring specialist practitioners within the Scheme at its implementation. To attempt to impose a one size fits all Scheme on any advocate who at any time appears in a criminal court is disproportionate to the regulatory (and public interest) risks that specialist advocates pose.

9. Given that stance, the issue for the BSB is how to reflect this view within the Scheme Rules so that it is clear which type of practitioner comes within the Scheme upon implementation and which type does not. The BSB proposes to address this through a clear definition of ‘criminal advocacy’. The current draft suggests that:

“criminal advocacy” means advocacy in cases relating to offences falling within the Table of Offences Within Each Level document set out in the Quality Assurance Scheme for Advocates published by the Joint Advocacy Group.

10. The ‘Table of Offences’ document, which is currently being finalised, includes all of the conventional criminal offences. It does not include most of the offences that specialist practitioners are likely to conduct – such as Health and Safety Offences, Financial Planning and Markets Act 2000 offences, Insider Dealing and Planning and Environmental Offences. This however is not a complete answer. For example, an advocate who specialises in Health and Safety law, may be instructed in a Manslaughter case (an offence which appears in the Table) where the issues are Health and Safety related or a financial regulatory specialist may be instructed in a case in which the indictment contains a mixture of FMSA offences and Fraud Act or Money Laundering offences (some of which come within the Table and some of which don’t).

11. The proposal is therefore to include two exceptions to the general definition above. These are:

- i. Cases in which the primary allegations are offences that do not appear in the Table (the hybrid indictment);
- ii. Cases which arise out of an advocate’s other areas of expertise

12. Barristers involved in cases that fall within the exceptions will be exempt from the Scheme.

Comments are invited on this proposal.

Proposed amendments to the Code of Conduct

Paragraph 603

A barrister must not accept any instructions if to do so would cause him to be professionally embarrassed and for this purpose a barrister will be professionally embarrassed:

....

(i) _____ if the task is criminal advocacy, you are not accredited at the correct level to undertake it, in accordance with the Quality Assurance Scheme for Advocates Rules at Annex X

Proposed new Annex to the Code of Conduct

QUALITY ASSURANCE SCHEME FOR ADVOCATES RULES

Interpretation

1. In these Rules:

“approved assessment centre” means an organisation approved by the Joint Advocacy Group to assess the competence of advocates to conduct criminal advocacy against the Statement of Standards published by the Joint Advocacy Group;

“Assessment Panel” means a panel constituted by the Joint Advocacy Group to provide advice to regulators in relation to the accreditation or competence of advocates under the Quality Assurance Scheme for Advocates;

“criminal advocacy” means advocacy in cases relating to offences falling within the levels set out in the Quality Assurance Scheme for Advocates published by the Joint Advocacy Group;

“independent assessor” means a person appointed by the Joint Advocacy Group to attend court to assess the competence of an advocate to conduct criminal advocacy against the Statement of Standards published by the Joint Advocacy Group;

“judicial evaluation form” means a form completed by a judge to record the competence of an advocate to conduct criminal advocacy against the Statement of Standards published by the Joint Advocacy Group; and “Joint Advocacy Group” means the group established by the Bar Standards Board, the Solicitors’ Regulation Authority and ILEX Professional Standards, in order to oversee and administer the quality assurance and accreditation of criminal advocacy.

Scope of the scheme

2. You may not undertake criminal advocacy unless accredited to do so in accordance with these Rules.

3. Accreditation shall be awarded under these Rules at levels of competence from 1 to 4, corresponding to the increasing seriousness and complexity of criminal cases falling within those levels, as set out in the Quality Assurance Scheme for Advocates published by the Joint Advocacy Group.
4. You shall only accept instructions to conduct advocacy in criminal cases which you are satisfied fall within the level at which you are accredited, or any level below the same, unless you are satisfied that you are competent to accept instructions for a case at a higher level in light of the particular circumstances of the case, and strictly in accordance with the prescribed criteria set out in the Scheme.
5. Subject to Rule 4, if you are accredited at level 3 or 4, you may act as a leader in a criminal case and you may seek the assistance of a junior who should normally be accredited at no more than one level below you, unless a larger gap is justified in the particular circumstances of the case.

General provisions relating to applications for accreditation

6. You may apply for accreditation, re-accreditation or progression under these Rules, including an application to convert provisional accreditation to full accreditation under Rule 25, by:
 - 6.1 completing the relevant application form supplied by the Bar Standards Board and submitting it to the Bar Standards Board;
 - 6.2 submitting such information in support of the application as may be prescribed under these Rules; and
 - 6.3 paying the appropriate fee in the amount determined in accordance with the Accreditation Scheme Fee Schedule published by the Bar Standards Board.
7.
