CONVEYANCING PRACTICE RIGHTS

INTRODUCTION

1. This handbook takes you through the application process to obtain conveyancing practice rights with CILEx Regulation and become authorised as a CILEx Conveyancing Practitioner.
2. We recommend that you read this handbook in conjunction with the Reserved Instrument Certification Rules which are located at Appendix 1.
3. You should read all of the handbook and supporting documentation before starting to make your application.
4. In order to become authorised by CILEx Regulation in Conveyancing Practice, you are required to demonstrate your knowledge and understanding, experience and skills in conveyancing practice and, if you intend to practise in a CILEx Regulation regulated entity, in Practice Management and Accounts at Level 1. This handbook explains how you will demonstrate each of these elements.
5. Once you have completed the process and you have been approved as a CILEx Conveyancing Practitioner, you will be authorised by CILEx Regulation to undertake conveyancing work. You will need to work in a legal practice that is regulated by an approved regulator or you may also work for an unregulated employer as their in-house adviser, provided that the employer does not provide legal services to the public or a section of the public as part of their business. CILEx Regulation can regulate legal practice entities and there is a separate process for this.
6. This handbook is divided into different sections:
 - Introduction: this section sets out who is eligible to make an application for conveyancing practice rights
 - The application form: this section takes you through the application process including how to complete each part of the application form
 - The Competence Framework: this section provides an overview of the competence framework. It explains how the knowledge, understanding, experience and skills contained in the framework should be demonstrated through your portfolios and logbook to demonstrate your competence in conveyancing practice
 - How your application is assessed: this section explains how your application is assessed, including the role of external assessors in the process
 - Next steps: this section explains what happens once CILEx Regulation has received the assessment of your portfolios and logbook
 - Annexes: these sections provide the competence framework and scheme rules.

7. In addition to demonstrating competence in conveyancing practice, if you will be delivering conveyancing services through a CILEx Regulation regulated entity you must show some knowledge of Practice Management and Accounts: we call this Level 1. If you intend to be responsible for managing the practice or accounts, where your entity is regulated by CILEx Regulation, you will also need to demonstrate the Practice Management and Accounts Competencies at Levels 2a, 2b and/or 2c, as appropriate, (see Compliance Manager handbook), and apply to CILEx Regulation to have your entity regulated by CILEx Regulation.
8. If, once you have read this handbook and the supporting documents, you have any questions on the application process, please contact us.

What are Conveyancing Practice Rights?

9. Under the Legal Services Act 2007 (s12) reserved instrument activities (conveyancing) can be carried out by an authorised person only. CILEx Regulation is a regulator that can award conveyancing practice rights to enable you to become an authorised person.

Conveyancing activities, under the Legal Services Act, means:

- (a) preparing any instrument of transfer or charge for the purposes of the Land Registration Act 2002 (c. 9);
- (b) making an application or lodging a document for registration under that Act;
- (c) preparing any other instrument relating to real or personal estate for the purposes of the law of England and Wales or instrument relating to court proceedings in England and Wales.

But “reserved instrument activities” does not include the preparation of an instrument relating to any particular court proceedings if, immediately before the appointed day, no restriction was placed on the persons entitled to carry on that activity.

In this paragraph “instrument” includes a contract for the sale or other disposition of land (except a contract to grant a short lease), but does not include— (a) a will or other testamentary instrument, (b) an agreement not intended to be executed as a deed, other than a contract that is included by virtue of the preceding provisions of this subparagraph, (c) a letter or power of attorney, or (d) a transfer of stock containing no trust or limitation of the transfer.

In this paragraph a “short lease” means a lease such as is referred to in section 54(2) of the Law of Property Act 1925 (c. 20) (short leases).

Who can apply for Conveyancing Practice Rights?

10. Applications to become a CILEx Conveyancing Practitioner can be made by a range of applicants, including CILEx members, non-CILEx members, authorised persons from other branches of the legal profession and others who can demonstrate that they have met the necessary knowledge, understanding, experience and skills outlined in this handbook and the scheme rules (set out at Annex 1).

What can a CILEx Conveyancing Practitioner do?

11. A CILEx Conveyancing Practitioner who has been authorised by CILEx Regulation to undertake conveyancing practice will be able to undertake the activities set out at paragraph 9.
12. However, conveyancing services can only be delivered through regulated entities. Unless you work in an entity that is already regulated you should apply to CILEx Regulation for regulation of your entity.

If your application is approved

13. If your application is approved, you will become a CILEx Conveyancing Practitioner, who is an authorised person under the Legal Services Act 2007. This means you can carry out conveyancing activities through a legal practice that is regulated or you may also work for an unregulated employer as their in-house adviser, provided that the employer does not provide legal services to the public or a section of the public as part of their business.
14. If you are a Fellow of CILEx you will be registered as a Chartered Legal Executive and CILEx Conveyancing Practitioner.
15. If you are a Member of CILEx you will be registered as a CILEx Member and CILEx Conveyancing Practitioner.
16. If you are not a member of CILEx you will be registered as a CILEx Conveyancing Practitioner only. You will not be a CILEx member and do not need to be a member. If you wish to become a CILEx member at the same time or after becoming a CILEx Conveyancing Practitioner please contact us. We will provide you with the relevant application details.
17. If you intend to practise independently ie to set up your own practice you must also seek regulation of your entity. CILEx Regulation and other regulators are able to regulate entities. There is a separate application process for entity regulation.

Making your initial application

18. To make your application to become a CILEx Conveyancing Practitioner you should submit the following:
 - Application form
 - Evidence of your qualifications (where appropriate)
 - Evidence of your experience
 - Evidence of your skills
 - Fee

19. We will work with you during the application and determination process to ensure that we have all the information necessary to enable us to make an informed decision as to whether you have the required knowledge and understanding, experience and skills to become a CILEx Conveyancing Practitioner.

THE APPLICATION FORM

20. The application form can be downloaded at www.cilexregulation.org.uk
21. You should fully complete all parts of the Application form with the exception of part seven, which is only required for applicants seeking advocacy rights.
22. The application form includes sections to demonstrate your knowledge, understanding, skills and experience in Conveyancing Practice. It also covers your knowledge, understanding, skills and experience in Practice Management and Accounts at Level 1 where you seek to deliver conveyancing services through a CILEx Regulation regulated entity. If you also are intending to manage the practice or accounts you will also need to become a Compliance Manager. Alternatively you may appoint other people in your practice as Compliance Managers. This could be one or two other people. The Compliance Manager will need to demonstrate Practice Management and Accounts at Level 1 and Level 2. There is a separate handbook and application form for you or others in your practice to seek authorisation as a Compliance Manager.
23. On the first page of the application form, you should indicate the practice right you seek.
24. You should complete the remaining sections of the application form as follows:

Part One: General Information

25. This section asks for your personal information. You should answer all questions in this section.
26. You do not need to be a member of CILEx to apply for Conveyancing Practice rights. If you are not a member of CILEx, please write N/A in the 'membership number' box. If you are successful in obtaining authorisation by us, we will register you as a CILEx Conveyancing Practitioner without CILEx membership, unless you wish to become a CILEx member. Please contact us for further information about CILEx membership.

Part Two: Knowledge and Understanding

27. To obtain Conveyancing Practice rights, you must demonstrate that you have gained the knowledge in Land Law and Conveyancing to Level 6 standard. We have developed competence frameworks which set out the competencies we require in each subject. They are at Annex 3.

28. There are 3 routes through which you can demonstrate competence. This part of the application form requires you to choose one or a combination of options from the three routes. You may find you need to only choose one of these options, or alternatively you may demonstrate your knowledge and understanding through choosing elements from more than one of these options.
29. The options set out how you may demonstrate your knowledge and are explained below.

Option 1: CILEx examinations

30. If you have passed the CILEx Level 6 examinations, in Land Law and/or Conveyancing, you should select this option. You must record the title of the examination and the date on which you passed the examination.
31. If you have not completed either or both of these examinations you may demonstrate your knowledge and understanding, equivalent to the Level 6 examinations in the subject(s) you do not have, through option 2 or option 3 or a combination of the two. Collectively you must demonstrate knowledge of both subjects.

Option 2: Equivalent examinations

32. You may rely on examinations you have passed in Land Law and/or Conveyancing with an organisation other than CILEx. The examinations must be to Level 6 standard, which is honours degree level, and map to the competence framework at annex 3 which is equivalent to the CILEx examinations. For example, you may have completed these subjects and been assessed in them on a law degree, LPC or BPTC.
33. We will map the examinations that you rely upon against the competencies at Annex 3 for equivalency. To enable us to undertake this mapping exercise, we will need you to provide the following information:
 - The name of the Awarding body of each examination on which you seek to rely;
 - The title of each examination passed;
 - The date on which you passed each examination;
 - Evidence of your results (e.g. a certificate or transcript of marks); and
 - The syllabus for each examination.
34. Once we have received all the necessary information, we will map your examinations against the requirements set out in the Competence Framework located in the Reserved Instrument Activities Certification Rules at Annex 3.

35. Each examination that you rely upon must have covered at least 50% of the competencies in the competence frameworks.
36. Where we do not find that the alternative examinations map to at least 50% of the competence frameworks we may ask you to supply further information about the examinations upon which you rely. Alternatively you may be asked to complete option 3 (the details of which are set out below). CILEx Regulation's assessment following the mapping exercise is final.

Option 3: Knowledge and understanding obtained through practice

37. Where you have not passed the CILEx Level 6 examinations or equivalent examinations in Land Law and/or Conveyancing, you must use option 3 to demonstrate your knowledge in these two subjects. Under this option you are able to demonstrate that through your practical experience you have gained knowledge of Land Law and/or Conveyancing. You must be able to demonstrate that the knowledge you have gained covers a sufficient breadth and depth to map to at least 50% of the competence frameworks at annex 3.
38. You will be required to produce five portfolios of cases that you have dealt with, which set out how you have met the knowledge and understanding requirements as set out in the Conveyancing Competence Framework. A portfolio template can be found at Annex 1 of the application form. This template sets out the questions you need to answer in respect of each of the 5 cases. You will therefore need to produce 5 copies of the portfolio form. You should use a separate portfolio form for each of the 5 cases used.
39. You should select cases for your portfolios that demonstrate the range and breadth of your knowledge and understanding of the learning outcomes, as set out in the Competence Framework located in the Reserved Instrument Activities Certification Rules at Annex 3.
40. We provide further guidance on how to complete the portfolios later in this handbook.

Part Three: Experience

41. In this part of the application form you must set out your experience in conveyancing practice, by outlining work you have undertaken in the last 5 years and producing portfolios of 3 cases you have dealt with.
42. You must begin by setting out your employment and work experience. This should cover the previous 5 years. If you have had a break in your employment in the last 5 years please provide an explanation for such breaks (e.g. maternity leave etc.).

43. You must have at least 2 years of experience in conveyancing practice immediately preceding your application. Where you have had a break in your employment, you may rely on conveyancing experience you gained earlier in the preceding 5 years. In exceptional circumstances, CILEx Regulation may accept experience gained from a period longer than 5 years ago.
44. For each of the employment/work roles you have identified on your application form, you should provide the following information:
 - A description of the types of cases that you have handled;
 - A description of your typical caseload, including details about the complexity of the caseload and a summary of any difficult cases you have handled;
 - The number of chargeable hours you spend on activities related to conveyancing practice;
 - The proportion of time you spend on conveyancing practice work as opposed to other areas of practice;
 - A description of the range and nature of matters you have handled which relate to conveyancing practice; and
 - Any distinctive features of your work.
45. In addition to outlining your experience, you should provide 3 portfolios of cases you have handled. The cases you select for your portfolios must cover a range of matters you have handled and demonstrate the breadth of your experience in conveyancing practice. We have produced a portfolio template for you to use which can be found at Annex 2 of the application form. You will need to make 3 copies of the form in order to produce 3 portfolios.

Part Four: Skills

46. In this part of the application you must demonstrate that you have the skills required to undertake conveyancing practice, deliver client care and undertake legal research. We have produced skills outcomes for client care, legal research and conveyancing practice.
47. The Competence Framework, located at Annex 3 of the handbook, sets out the skills you must demonstrate. We have called them learning outcomes for Conveyancing Practice.

48. You can meet the legal research and client care skills through a number of routes:
- by undertaking the CILEx Level 6 examinations in these subjects;
 - through having completed an LL.B (legal research only); and/or
 - LPC/BPTC; or
 - through your work experience.
49. You can demonstrate that you meet the conveyancing skills outcomes and also the client care and legal research outcomes either by:
- taking a course or examination, which meets the outcomes set out in the Competence Framework;
 - by providing a logbook and portfolio of evidence which demonstrates how you have met each of the outcomes; or
 - a combination of the two options.
50. Where you opt to use the logbook and portfolio option we have produced a logbook template which asks a series of questions about your skills. The logbook template sheet can be found at Annex 3 of the application form. You must be able to evidence that your skills cover each learning outcome identified in column 2 of the skills section of the competence framework. You do this by completing a logbook sheet and providing supporting evidence for each outcome in column 2 of the competence framework. More guidance on this is provided in the section headed 'the competence framework' later in this handbook. Where you cannot demonstrate that you have met one or more of the learning outcomes, you must complete a course which covers these skills.

Part Five: Practice Management and Accounts

51. Complete this part of the application form if you intend to deliver conveyancing services through an entity that will be regulated by CILEx Regulation. The form asks you to demonstrate your knowledge, understanding, experience and skills in Practice Management and Accounts to Level 1. You will also need a Compliance Manager(s) responsible for practice and/or accounts management. You or the person(s) applying to become the Compliance Manager(s) will also need to complete the Compliance Manager application form, which is available separately.
52. There are two routes through which you can demonstrate competence to Level 1 in practice management and accounts. This part of the application form requires you to choose one or a combination of options from the two routes. You may find you need to only choose one of these options, or alternatively you may demonstrate your knowledge and understanding through choosing elements from both of these options.
53. The options set out how you may demonstrate your knowledge and are explained below.

Option 1: Course(s)

54. If you have completed or passed a course which demonstrates your competence in some or all of the outcomes as set out in the competence framework, you may rely on this as evidence of meeting the required standard to achieve authorisation in practice management and accounts. You must record the course provider/awarding body, the title of the course and the date on which you completed or passed the course.
55. In addition, you should also supply the syllabus/course outline for the course on which you seek to rely, together with any transcript of marks and proof of having completed and, where appropriate, passed the course.
56. We will map the courses that you rely upon against the competencies at Annex 4 for equivalency. To enable us to undertake this mapping exercise, we will need you to provide the following information:
 - The name of the Awarding body/course provider of each course on which you seek to rely;
 - The title of each course completed/passed;
 - The date on which you completed/passed each course;
 - Evidence of your completion/results (e.g. confirmation of attendance, a certificate or transcript of marks); and
 - The syllabus/course outline for each course.
57. Once we have received all the necessary information, we will map your course(s) against the requirements set out in the Practice Management and Accounts Competence Framework at Annex 4.
58. The course(s) on which you rely must cover each of the competencies in the competence frameworks. The types of courses or qualifications that CILEx Regulation will accept for this part of the application process may include commercial courses, formally assessed courses offered by training providers or institutions providing assessed qualifications.
59. Where we do not find that the course(s) map to each of the outcomes in the competence frameworks we may ask you to supply further information about the course(s) upon which you rely. Alternatively you may be asked to complete option 2 (the details of which are set out below).
60. CILEx Regulation's assessment following the mapping exercise is final.
61. If you have not completed a course which demonstrates meeting some or all of the outcomes as set out in the competence framework you must demonstrate these through option 2. Collectively you must demonstrate knowledge, understanding, experience and skills in practice management and accounts management to the level equivalent with the authorisation you seek.

Option 2: Knowledge, understanding, experience and skills obtained through practice

62. Where you have not passed course(s) which meet the relevant outcomes required for authorisation in practice management and accounts management, you must use option 2 to demonstrate your knowledge, understanding, experience and skills in these outcomes. Under this option you are able to demonstrate that through your practical experience you have gained knowledge of the relevant outcomes. You must be able to demonstrate that the knowledge you have gained covers a sufficient breadth and depth to map to each of the outcomes set out in the competence frameworks at annex 4.
63. Where you opt to use the logbook and portfolio option we have produced a logbook template which asks a series of questions about your skills. The template logbook sheet can be found at Annex 3 of the application form. You must be able to evidence that your skills cover each learning outcome at the appropriate level as it correlates with your desired authorisation in practice management and accounts management. These are identified in column 2 of the competence frameworks.
64. You do this by completing a logbook sheet and providing supporting evidence for each outcome in column 2 of the competence frameworks. More guidance on how the competence frameworks work is provided later in this handbook. Where you cannot demonstrate that you have met one or more of the learning outcomes, you must complete a course which covers these skills

Part Six: Membership of Professional Bodies and Conduct

65. This part of the application form asks you to outline any memberships you have of other professional bodies and your prior conduct.

Membership of Professional Bodies

66. You should complete the table, setting out details of all memberships you hold of professional bodies, except for CILEx. You should include past and present memberships you hold or have held and set out the dates of each period of membership where you have held membership more than once with the same organisation.
67. You should include a statement of good standing for each of these memberships. A statement of good standing confirms that you have maintained any CPD requirements required as a member of each organisation and, that for current memberships, your subscriptions are up to date.

Statement of prior conduct

68. This section asks you about your past conduct. You must answer all questions on the statement of prior conduct.

69. Where you have answered 'yes' to any of the questions, you must provide full details of the circumstances giving rise to the declaration, including dates of any declared conduct.
70. We will refer prior conduct matters to the CILEx Regulation Investigation Team, which will ask you for further information. A decision will be made whether the prior conduct matter affects your application for Conveyancing Practice rights.

Declaration of conduct

71. You should then sign this part of the document. This declaration relates specifically to the information declared in this section in respect of prior conduct. You will also be asked to sign the application form at the end, to confirm that the information you have provided within your whole application is accurate and complete.

Part Seven: Advocacy Application

72. Applicants seeking conveyancing practice rights need not complete this section.

Part Eight: References and Declaration

73. This part of the application asks you to provide details of 2 legal professionals who have knowledge of your work and are willing to provide a reference for you. The legal professionals should be authorised persons. An authorised person is defined in section 18 of the Legal Services Act 2007 as a CILEx Practitioner, solicitor, barrister, CILEx Fellow, Licensed Conveyancer, Patent Agent, Trade Mark Attorney, Costs Lawyer or Notarial Agent.
74. You should provide full contact details of your referees, including their name, address, telephone number and professional position. We will write to your referees and ask for a reference. We treat references as confidential and therefore will not ordinarily share them with you.
75. The final section of the application form asks you to choose the practice right for which you are applying. In this case you should delete all parts, with the exception of 'Conveyancing' in the first part of the declaration.
76. You should then sign and date the application form, stating that you have provided full and complete information to the best of your knowledge and that you agree to be bound by the rules governing authorisation as a CILEx Conveyancing Practitioner with CILEx Regulation.

THE COMPETENCE FRAMEWORK

77. This handbook makes reference to the Competence Framework, which is located within the Reserved Instrument Certification Rules at Annex 3 of this document.
78. You may not be familiar with competence frameworks, in which case you should read this section before you start to complete the portfolios.
79. The framework has 3 columns.
- The first column identifies the nature of the learning outcomes and supporting experience. This is where we identify which sections relate to knowledge and understanding, experience or skills elements.
 - The second column identifies each learning outcome to be addressed. Learning outcomes set out what you are able to do, either because you have completed a course/examination or because you have developed the knowledge, understanding, experience or skill through your work. When completing your portfolio or logbooks you should refer to the outcomes in this column for the knowledge, skills or experience part.
 - The final column sets out the experience that you must have gained in order to meet the learning outcome set out in column 2. Where relevant they explain the steps you should take to evidence the corresponding outcome.
80. You should focus on column 2, which sets out the relevant learning outcome. Column 3 sets out the necessary knowledge and skills that support meeting the learning outcome.

Completion of the Knowledge and Understanding Portfolios – Annex 1 of Application Form

81. You must demonstrate your knowledge and understanding of the elements set out in the competence framework included in the Reserved Instrument Activities Certification Rules located at Appendix 1 of this document.
82. Where you have not passed the CILEx Level 6 examinations or equivalent examinations in Land Law and/or Conveyancing, you must complete portfolios to demonstrate your knowledge and understanding of each of the knowledge and understanding learning outcomes. This section guides you on completing the portfolios.
83. You must complete portfolios of five cases to demonstrate your knowledge and understanding of Land Law and Conveyancing, in accordance with the learning outcomes from the competence framework (column 2 of the knowledge and understanding section of the framework).

84. Whilst you need not demonstrate all of the outcomes in each portfolio, you should demonstrate each knowledge and understanding learning outcome at least once across the five portfolios.
85. Each learning outcome has an explanation of what information is needed to demonstrate that you have met that learning outcome. These are located in column 3 of the framework. You must explain how your case example demonstrates these as this in turn demonstrates that you have met the learning outcome. For example:

Knowledge Element 2	Learning Outcome	Supporting Experience
Residential Conveyancing	This is made up of 9 learning outcomes: the 6th outcome states: Demonstrate knowledge, understanding and application of the rules and practise relating to the creation and protection of easements and covenants (including their registration)	The information in this column sets out what you need to demonstrate in your case study to have met this learning outcome: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - To determine whether suitable easements are in existence or will be reserved and/or granted when transferring the whole or part of a title and leasehold interests in relation (but not limited to) access, service arrangements in relation to utilities the right to connect to and/or install utilities, the right to repair and suitable arrangements in relation to maintenance and the payment of any service charge (including the difficulty of enforcing positive (non-leasehold) covenants in relation to such payments) - To determine whether suitable positive and negative covenants are in existence or will need to be created or modified based on the needs of the clients when transferring the whole or part of a title - To follow the correct procedure for registering easements and covenants in both registered and unregistered land.

86. To meet part 1 of this outcome, you could outline a case where during the course of your work you had to determine whether an easement existed or could be created. In your explanation, you should demonstrate that you covered the steps outlined in the supporting experience column to show that you have satisfied this outcome of knowledge element 2.

87. There are 3 knowledge elements to be satisfied and each has a series of learning outcomes attached to them. Although each portfolio does not need to cover all of the learning outcomes, ideally you should demonstrate that you meet each learning outcome at least once across the 5 portfolios. The minimum requirement is to demonstrate that you meet at least 50% of the learning outcomes. You should indicate in your portfolios the learning outcomes you believe each portfolio addresses.
88. The portfolio requires you demonstrate the learning outcomes through answering the questions set out below. We have outlined how you can answer the questions.

- Provide an outline of the facts of the case/matter

You should provide an outline of the facts of the case/matter that you handled that you are using. You could for example set out the facts of a case where a client asks you to act in the purchase of their property.

- Provide an explanation of the law arising in the case/matter and how the law applies to the facts outlined above

You should provide an outline of the law which you identify as relevant to the facts, in the matter that you are using, to illustrate the learning outcomes from the knowledge and understanding section of the competence framework. You may find that you are able to demonstrate some of the law competencies from the competence framework in this section of the portfolio. For example for learning outcome 1 of knowledge element 2, if appropriate, you could set out the law that relates to your instructions such as the first registration of land.

- Provide an outline of any procedural and process matters that arose in the case/matter and how they were dealt with

You should outline the steps undertaken to progress the case. This may include any searches undertaken and the action you took before that to enable you to do so.

- Provide an outline of the evidential issues that arose in the case and how they were dealt with

You should provide an outline of the evidence you had and how you dealt with this to illustrate the learning outcomes from the knowledge and understanding section of the competence framework. For example evidential issues arising from the searches undertaken.

You should note that 'Issues' does not mean problems.

- Provide an outline of any ethical or conduct issues that arose in the case and how they were dealt with

You should provide an outline of any relevant ethical or conduct issues that arose in the matter that you are using to illustrate the learning outcomes from the knowledge and understanding section of the competence framework. It is important that you are aware of your obligations to your client and act with honesty and integrity. For example, where you needed to seek advice on an area of law where you were unfamiliar with the requirements so as to not act beyond your competence in a matter.

- Provide an outline of any funding issues that arose in the case and how they were dealt with

You should provide an explanation of how the case was funded.

You should note that 'Issues' does not mean problems.

- Provide an outline of the advice provided to the applicant and the outcome of the matter

You should provide an outline of the advice you provided to your client which was relevant to progressing the matter that you are using to illustrate the learning outcomes from the knowledge and understanding section of the competence framework. For example, where a client requests that the property is held as tenants in common.

- Provide an outline of the decisions you to make in the case and whether you had to take any strategic decisions in the case

You should provide an outline of any decisions you had to make, including strategic decisions relevant in the matter that you are using to illustrate the learning outcomes from the knowledge and understanding section of the competence framework.

- Provide a description of any training or development needs you have identified as a result of having dealt with the case

Having reflected on the case/matter you used in your portfolio, you should consider whether any training or development arose either during the case or on reflection following completion of the matter which would assist you in dealing with similar cases in future. You should also outline how you have addressed the training need identified.

89. At the end of each portfolio you should identify which of the knowledge and understanding outcomes you believe you have met in the portfolio.

Completion of the Experience Portfolios – Annex 3 of Application Form

90. You are required to demonstrate your experience of the elements set out in the 'Entry Experience All Applicants' section of the competence framework included in the Reserved Instrument Activities Certification Rules located at Annex 3 of this document.
91. All applicants must complete this part of the form unless you have already completed five portfolios to demonstrate your knowledge.
92. You should complete portfolios of three cases to demonstrate your experience of Land Law and Conveyancing, in accordance with the relevant elements identified in the competence framework.
93. Your portfolios must demonstrate your breadth of experience in these areas. You should follow the guidance set out earlier on answering the questions.
94. Each portfolio must cover a range of the learning outcomes from the knowledge and understanding part of the competence framework so as to demonstrate your experience of conveyancing practice gained in the last 2 years.
95. At the end of each portfolio you should identify how the portfolio demonstrates your experience in conveyancing practice.
96. Where the knowledge and understanding portfolios do not demonstrate your experience to meet this requirement, you should submit additional portfolios to demonstrate your experience of conveyancing practice gained in accordance with the experience requirements.
97. The portfolios will be marked by an external assessor.

Completion of the Skills Logbook and Portfolio of Evidence

98. The following guidance explains how to complete and present your logbook and portfolio for the skills part of your application. You must demonstrate your skills in conveyancing practice, client care and legal research by completing a logbook sheet for each skills element. Alternatively, you may complete a skills course or qualification to meet the learning outcomes.
99. This section guides you where you opt to complete a logbook and portfolio of evidence.
101. The skills that you are required to demonstrate can be found in the part of the competence framework labelled: 'Stage 2 Qualification Criteria: Skills'. In the first column of the competence framework, there are 8 skills elements identified.

101. Skills element 1 is client care. This can be demonstrated in a number of ways:
- By passing the CILEx Level 6 Client Care examination;
 - completion and passing the LPC or BPTC;
 - another examination which meets the outcomes set out in column 2 of the competence framework; or
 - through completion of a logbook and portfolio of evidence which demonstrates how you meet these outcomes from your work experience.
102. Skills element 2 is legal research. This can be demonstrated in a number of ways:
- By passing the CILEx Level 6 Legal Research examination;
 - through completion of a qualifying law degree;
 - another examination which meets the outcomes set out in column 2 of the competence framework; or
 - through completion of a logbook and portfolio of evidence which demonstrates how you meet these outcomes from your work experience.
103. Skills elements 3 to 8 are specific to conveyancing practice. They cover drafting and managing conveyancing activities. These can be demonstrated either through:
- successfully completing a course which meets the outcomes set out in column 2 of the competence framework; or
 - through completion of a logbook and portfolio of evidence which demonstrates how you meet these outcomes from your work experience.
104. You should complete a separate logbook sheet (located at Annex 3 of the application form) for each of the skills learning outcomes that are set out in column 2 of the Competence Framework located in the Reserved Instrument Activities Certification Rules at Annex 3. In producing your logbook for each of these outcomes in column 2 you should aim to address the experience elements in column 3 of the framework.
105. For each piece of evidence you provide to support meeting the skills outlined in column 2 you should provide a logbook sheet which explains what the evidence is that you have provided and how it meets the learning outcome and supporting experience (located in columns 2 and 3). For example, to meet the skill element 7 (legal writing and drafting), learning outcome 2 (drafting), you could provide evidence of having drafted a lease or transfer document.

106. You should then outline how the evidence shows you have put the outcome into practice in your workplace. For example, to explain how the lease meets the outcome, you could outline your client's instructions and how the lease meets those requirements.
107. Where your activity in meeting the outcome has highlighted opportunities for you to develop your legal knowledge or professional skills, you should identify this on the logbook sheet. You may also want to include any steps you have taken to address this opportunity for development.
108. The evidence used must come from matters that you have dealt with and must support the learning outcomes and supporting evidence identified on the logbook sheet.
109. The evidence should be provided in a page numbered portfolio, with the relevant logbook sheet attached to the evidence.
110. A template logbook sheet can be found at Annex 3 of the application form.
111. There are up to 8 skills elements to be satisfied through preparation of a logbook and portfolio of evidence (depending on how you have chosen to demonstrate you meet these outcomes) and each has a series of learning outcomes attached to them. Ideally you should demonstrate competence against each of the learning outcomes in the competence framework.
112. You should provide the date upon which each outcome was completed on the logbook sheet; this will be the most recent date of the evidence supplied. The evidence on which you rely should not normally be more than 2 years old by the date on which you submit your portfolio. Where you have had a break in your employment, you may rely on conveyancing experience you gained earlier in the preceding 5 years. In exceptional circumstances, CILEx Regulation may accept experience gained from a period longer than 5 years ago.
113. You should sign and date each logbook sheet with the date you complete the logbook entry.
114. You should not present your logbook and portfolio in a ring-binder or any other binding or wallet. You should not staple sheets together or use comb binding. You may connect pages using a treasury tag or an elastic band only.

PRACTICE MANAGEMENT AND ACCOUNTS

115. If you seek to deliver Conveyancing Practice rights through an entity that is regulated by CILEx Regulation you must obtain authorisation at Level 1 in Practice Management and Accounts.

116. In addition all entities must have Compliance Manager(s) responsible for practice management and accounts. The person(s) who will be the Compliance Manager(s) (whether in practice management, accounts or both) must seek complete the Compliance Manager application form. The Compliance Manager does not have to become a CILEx Conveyancing Practitioner if they are not undertaking conveyancing work. Alternatively you may be a CILEx Conveyancing Practitioner and the Compliance Manager.
117. Once you have demonstrated competence in conveyancing entity rights and accounts and practice management to level 1 you will be authorised by CILEx Regulation to deliver conveyancing services.
118. If you intend to practise independently i.e. to set up your own entity you must also seek regulation of your entity. CILEx Regulation and other regulators are able to regulate entities. There is a separate application process for entity regulation.

The Practice Management and Accounts Competence Framework

119. This handbook makes reference to the Practice Management Competence Framework and Accounts Management Competence Framework, which are located at Annex 4 of this document.
120. You may not be familiar with competence frameworks, in which case you should read this section before you start to complete the portfolios.
121. The framework has 3 columns.
 - The first column identifies the nature of the learning outcomes and supporting experience. This is where we identify the required knowledge, understanding, experience and skills elements.
 - The second column identifies each learning outcome to be addressed. Learning outcomes set out what you are able to do, either because you have completed a course/examination or because you have developed the knowledge, understanding, experience or skills through your work. When completing your logbook you should refer to the outcomes in this column for the knowledge, understanding, skills and experience.
 - The final column sets out the experience that you must have gained in order to meet the learning outcome set out in column 2. Where relevant they explain the steps you should take to evidence the corresponding outcome.
122. You should focus on column 2, which sets out the relevant learning outcome. Column 3 sets out the necessary knowledge and skills that support meeting the learning outcome.

123. Each learning outcome has an explanation of what information is needed to demonstrate that you have met that learning outcome. These are located in column 3 of the framework. You must explain how your case example demonstrates these as this in turn demonstrates that you have met the learning outcome. For example (from Practice Management Competence Framework):

Knowledge, Understanding, Skills and Experience	Learning Outcome	Supporting Experience
Being part of a profession	This is made up of 1 learning outcome: It states: Demonstrate knowledge, understanding and application of the current legal market and legal entities which may be created to provide a legal service	The information in this column sets out what you need to demonstrate in your case study to have met this learning outcome. It has 2 levels (level 1 and level 2a). All applicants must complete level 1, those seeking authorisation as a Compliance Manager must also complete level 2a. Level 1 states: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Knowledge and understanding of the types of structure through which a legal entity may be formed – Knowledge and understanding of those able to regulate reserved legal activities – Understanding that the structure and regulation of legal entities and activities may change and be able to identify these changes – Knowledge and understanding of a business plan, taking into account recent and current changes to the legal services market – Knowledge, understanding and ability to comply with a complaints procedure in line with LeO guidelines.

124. To meet level 1 of this outcome you should outline your knowledge and understanding of each element, set out in the supporting experience column and explain how you apply this knowledge to your practice. This will demonstrate that you have satisfied this outcome at level 1 in practice management.

Completion of the Practice Management and Accounts Skills Logbook and Portfolio of Evidence

125. The following guidance explains how you should complete and present your logbook and portfolio for your application in relation to practice management and accounts. You must demonstrate your knowledge, understanding, experience and skills in the relevant level of competence for practice management and accounts management by completing a logbook sheet for each skills element. Alternatively, you may complete a course or courses to meet the learning outcomes.
126. This section gives you guidance where you opt to complete a logbook and portfolio of evidence.
127. The knowledge, understanding, experience and skills that you are required to demonstrate can be found in the competence frameworks. In the first column of the competence framework, there are 4 elements identified in the practice management competence framework and 3 elements identified in the accounts management competence framework.
128. The elements identified in the practice management competence framework cover the following elements:
 - Being part of a profession
 - CILEx regulations
 - Management of a legal entity
 - Business acumen
129. The elements identified in the accounts competence framework cover the following elements:
 - CILEx Accounts Rules
 - General Bookkeeping
 - Finances
130. Each of the outcomes which fall within each element are levelled, at either level 1, level 2a, level 2b or level 2c. If you are not seeking authorisation as a Compliance Manager, you need only demonstrate competence at level 1.

131. The outcomes can be demonstrated either through:
- successfully completing a course which meets the outcomes set out in column 2 of the competence framework; or
 - through completion of a logbook and portfolio of evidence which demonstrates how you meet these outcomes from your work experience.
132. You should complete a separate logbook sheet (located at Annex 3 of the application form) for each of the knowledge, understanding, skills and experience learning outcomes that are set out in column 2 of the Competence Framework located in at Annex 4. In producing your logbook for each of these outcomes in column 2 you should aim to address the experience elements set out in column 3 of the framework.
133. For each piece of evidence you provide to support meeting the skills outlined in column 2 you should provide a logbook sheet which explains what the evidence is that you have provided and how it meets the learning outcome and supporting experience (located in columns 2 and 3). For example, in the Accounts Management Competence Framework, to meet element 2 (General Bookkeeping), learning outcome 1 (Double Entry Bookkeeping) at level 1, you could provide evidence of your knowledge and understanding of client ledgers, making entries into legal cashbooks, trial balances and a bill of costs.
134. You should then outline how the evidence shows you have put the outcome into practice in your workplace. For example, to explain how the financial statement clearly sets out the position of the client and how your knowledge of time costing has been applied to benefit reporting.
135. Where your activity in meeting the outcome has highlighted opportunities for you to develop your legal knowledge or professional skills, you should identify this on the logbook sheet. You may also want to include any steps you have taken to address this opportunity for development.
136. The evidence used must come from matters that you have dealt with and must support the learning outcomes and supporting evidence identified on the logbook sheet.
137. The evidence should be provided in a page numbered portfolio, with the relevant logbook sheet attached to the evidence.
138. A logbook sheet can be found at Annex 3 of the application form.
139. There are 7 elements to be satisfied to the required level (as set out above) through preparation of a logbook and portfolio of evidence (depending on how you have chosen to demonstrate you meet these outcomes) and each has a series of learning outcomes attached to them. You should demonstrate meeting each learning outcome at least once.

140. You should provide the date upon which each outcome was completed on the logbook sheet; this will be the most recent date of the evidence supplied. The evidence on which you rely should not normally be more than 2 years old by the date on which you submit your portfolio. Where you have had a break in your employment, you may rely on experience you gained earlier in the preceding 5 years. In exceptional circumstances, CILEx Regulation may accept experience gained from a period longer than 5 years ago.
141. You should sign and date each logbook sheet with the date you complete the logbook entry.
142. You should not present your logbook and portfolio in a ring-binder or any other binding or wallet. You should not staple sheets together or use comb binding. You may connect pages using a treasury tag or an elastic band only.

149. External assessment may take a few weeks. The external assessors will review all of the evidence and portfolios that you have provided to demonstrate your knowledge, understanding, skills and experience and will assess your portfolios against each of the learning outcomes.
150. There are a number of outcomes from assessment:
- Where you demonstrate competence, your portfolio/logbook will be considered to demonstrate that you are competent in that element; or
 - We or the external assessor may seek further information before we can reach a decision, for example, we may ask for additional evidence or more detailed explanation of the matter(s) you have relied upon; or
 - The assessor may assess you as not yet competent, in which case they will provide reasons for their decision.

Once we have received the outcome of the assessment from the external assessor, we will decide the next action required.

151. Our action, once we have received the external assessor's assessment may be to:
- Approve the application in the office as all elements have been assessed as 'Competent' in accordance with the Competence Framework.
 - Where the portfolio/logbook has been assessed as overall competent, but issues have been identified by the assessor, the office may refer your application to the Admissions and Licensing Committee for their decision.
 - Request further information from you and resubmit the application and/or ask you to make further submissions in support of your application. We will then submit this along with your existing application to the Admissions and Licensing Committee for a decision.

Where the application is approved in the office

152. Where the application cannot be approved in the office

155. Where the external adviser has identified areas for further development in your application before you can be assessed as competent, you will be asked to provide further information, make representations to the Admissions and Licensing Committee or you may decide to withdraw your application.

Withdrawing your application

156. If you decide to withdraw your application where the external adviser has assessed your application as not yet competent, your application will be cancelled. Your fee will not be refunded. If you would like to seek authorisation as a CILEx Conveyancing Practitioner in the future, you will be required to make a fresh application.

The Admissions and Licensing Committee

157. If you decide to continue with your application, you should provide additional supporting information to demonstrate your competence and/or make representations to the Committee as to your competence.
158. Once your additional information has been received, your application will be presented to the next available meeting of the Admissions and Licensing Committee for their decision.
159. The Committee may decide to approve or refuse your application.

160. If the Committee determines that your application demonstrates that you are competent to become a conveyancing practitioner your application will be approved. In this case, we will write to you confirming that you have been authorised as a CILEx Conveyancing Practitioner and will send out your practising certificate.
161. NOTE: If you are seeking to practise conveyancing in an entity regulated by CILEx Regulation and act as the Compliance Manager for that entity, you must also satisfy the requirements as set out in the Compliance Manager handbook and for entity regulation.
162. If the Committee determines that your application does not demonstrate that you have yet met the competence requirements necessary to become a CILEx Conveyancing Practitioner they will refuse your application.
163. In this situation, your application will be cancelled. Your fee will not be refunded. If you would like to seek authorisation as a CILEx Conveyancing Practitioner, you will be required to make a fresh application.

CILEx Regulation will recognise that applicants could have had a break in their experience due to factors such as career breaks, job changes, maternity or paternity leave, long term illness, or disability. CILEx Regulation will not discriminate directly or indirectly against an applicant whose experience has been affected in this way. However, CILEx Regulation will need to ensure that an applicant has an acceptable level of experience.
10. Where an applicant has had a break in their experience, they may provide details of experience gained during a different period when they were more actively engaged in conveyancing practice. However, the break must not have been longer than 5 years. In exceptional circumstances, applications may be accepted from applicants who have had a break longer than 5 years.
